Early detection is important

Reasons:

- (1) Attacks usually begin at a small scale in a small area. Early detection can keep them that way therefore minimizing damage.
- (2) Early detection gives time to make a positive identification and get correct recommendations for control.
- (3) Early detection enables earlier control, allowing less extensive spraying of chemicals, extends the period between spraying and harvest, improves safety.

Be alert for insect pests. Apply control measures as early as possible and use recommended chemicals and rates. Use all safety precautions listed on the label.

Always spray on a moist day so as to further assist. Do not water or mow the lawn for 2-3 days to give the chemical a better chance to be absorbed by the dandelions. As far as mixing the chemical, most small can put out for lawn use have directions on them.

There are also a number of other products put out, such as Weedex bar, Killer cane, and some preemergent cane for use on lawns. Most of these are more expensive than using actual herbicide and mixed with water. They will however do a good job on the said dandelion in a lawn and are de-

A recent report from R.O. Records of Performance and D.H.I.A. (Dairy Herd Improvement Association) records in Ontario compares A.I. sires sires against naturally sires sires on test. Speaking of Holsteins breed the A.I. sires have a production advantage of 700 lbs. of milk per lactation. With fluid milk selling more per lactation. With an average of five lactations, the cow would return to her owner $125.00 more than her natural sire paid.

For the cream shipper 700 lbs. of milk testing 3.7 per cent equals 25.9 lbs. of butterfat selling at 66 cents per pound equals $17.09 per lactation plus 1/2 ton of skim milk food.

In five lactations $17.09 x 5 equals $85.45 plus 2,270 lbs. of skim milk.

At a time when Canada needs to get its grain to market as fast as possible, because of circumstances of payment problems, it is terribly unfortunate that a strike of this nature should occur so early in the season.

The grain elevators company is not a unionized company. It is struck to fear, Alberta's grain is in jeopardy. The threat posed is serious and controlled by Alberta's farmers. The rate they are very people

With so much at stake, it can be no question of not considering the real facts. Because the grain handlers are so vitally concerned, a long and open dispute is unthinkable.

Water Skiing

If water skiing is practiced with intelligence and common sense it is a very safe sport. A little carelessness or lack of thought can quickly bring out many dangers.

One of the most important rules of safety is: If you can't swim, don't water ski. Take swimming lessons first and then learn to water ski, but even if you can swim always wear a flotation device of some kind—belt, lifejacket or skin divers wet suit. Even the strongest swimmers are unable to keep afloat if stunned on a fall.

Government regulations require certain safety equipment in your boat. Lifejackets, paddles and bailer are all for your safety so make sure that they are on board, easy to get at and properly secured. By law a second person is required in the boat during water skiing. This person is not there for the conversational convenience of the driver but to watch the skier. Further, the observer should be a water skier or a person that fully understands what is going on.

Badly kept water ski equipment with sharp metal parts or splintered wood can cause injury. Keep your water ski in top shape.

Learn new water ski stunts progressively. Never ski when tired as this is when injury is most likely to occur.

When you fall recover as quickly as you will. help keep you afloat. If you are skiing in a well-travelled area hold a ski up so you can more easily be seen by other boat drivers.

Never ski in shallow or unknown waters or near subjects such as docks, piers, pilings and rocks. Keep clear of swimmers, fishermen and skin divers.

Above all—always act with courtesy. Learn and use proper signals. This sign language of water skiing enables the skier to communicate with the boat which is usually 75 feet away. The list should be kept simple to avoid confusion. For example:

MEANS	MEANING
Verbal: "Up gear"	The skier wishes to make the boat move away at slow speed.
Verbal: "Hill"	The skier is ready for the driver to apply full throttle.
Up and down movement of the hand—palm facing up	Speed up.
Up and down movement of the hand—palm facing down	Slow down.
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 fingers held up following the count signal	Amount of increase or decrease in speed.
Small circular motion of the hand followed by pointing to stern	Return to starting place.
Point to stern, palm up, signal, but avoid by holding up one finger.	Return to starting place in deep water.
Fingers drawn across throat	Stop the engine.
Hand clasped over the head after a fall	Skier is okay.
Point to head with thumb	Boat is going to turn.
From the head and arm above head	Boat to head and arm above head.

Power Mowers

Injuries from power mowers are becoming a major problem in Canada, according to Gay McLaren, general manager of the National Safety League of Canada. Because few of them are fatal and most go unreported, no reliable statistics are available, but spot surveys have shown that hundreds of severe injuries to hands and feet occur every year because mower owners ignore simple safety rules.

Mr. McLaren suggested, before mowing, check the grass for debris that could become a dangerous missile if flung by the blades. Warn bystanders away by tying twigs and stones will not harm them. Wear heavy shoes to protect toes. Keep in step with the mower's progress so complete control may be maintained. Cut hilly areas and banks from side to side, not up and down. Shut off the motor before making any adjustment. Never allow children to operate a power mower.

"Keep it helpful, not harmful," Mr. McLaren said.

Now, let's see what we learned all year

As exam lines roll around high school students are being put to the test to find out what they learned during the year. It was a varied mixture of anxiety and excitement of hope and concern that 164 students from grades 10 and 11 sat down for the annual exam at Riverview School Monday. Pictures are shown in large numbers where desks were set up for open supervision. Grade 10 and 11 students sit alternately, perhaps to cut down temptation of cheating.

This Is Canadianism!

The St. Paul Chamber of Commerce, being more concerned about what Canada is, than what it should be or what it isn't, more concerned about why it is in fact a country of diversity and unity of diversity, feel it mandatory to publish a series of articles based on what Canada is, its personal knowledge of Canada. "Canadianism" matters are being written by the St. Paul Chamber of Commerce or the St. Paul Journal giving full particulars.

This, Then, Is Canadianism!

Through their dedicated art teachers, three hours a night, once a week, these young Canadians graphically relieve their proud Indian heritage—knowing that the white that their ancestors will raise funds for a local Indian Children's Association.

And they are finding out that, sometimes,

"You can hear the ringing wavy of a long-distance wave Echo through the misty forest, echo over the midnight wave" (1)

And that, sometimes, you can see as,

"The misting night, was, drenched,
Wings up the gorge's love rest" (2)

And that, sometimes, you can actually become the love traveler,

"Laden with ideas from the north,
Beaver and bear and racoon,
Horn and hoof from the prairie hills,
Enter and embrace and make paths
This is the love's moon" (3)

THIS IS CANADIANISM!

New Town Hall Project

The new Town Hall Project is going up before the proprietary electors of St. Paul for the third time on Friday, July 9th.

Since this project has been first proposed, defeated twice, it has been probably the most discussed in recent years. The publicity which has been dispersed around it has brought out every argument for and against, and there is not much more to be added.

It is obvious that there is an element which is definitely against it and will never be convinced that a new town hall for St. Paul is not advantageous, is not a luxury, but an administrative building which is very much needed for efficient and smooth operation of town business.

As a matter of fact if we keep on operating from the old one, it will cost more in loss of time and maintenance than the building of a new one.

At a citizens' meeting Monday, a lot of figures were brought up, statistics tried to prove points beyond the comprehension of many, adding more confusion to the situation. We're not going to quote figures here to confuse you. It is obvious to any progressive citizen that we must live with the times. It is being done in education at great cost to all of us, but we must accept the fact that it is necessary. Under our present economic system, we must borrow money for such a project, pay interest at the going rate, whatever it is, if we are going to obtain and enjoy the necessities and comfort of this day and age. This is not a question of financial theories, but the hard fact of what we need a town hall.

There is a breakdown of figures on the cost of this project on this page for anyone interested. More information is available at the town office, or anyone you have confidence in to give you the right answers.

We have always been for progress and against we urge everyone to get cut and vote on the Town Hall Project, Friday, July 9th. Those who are against it will make sure they vote. If you're in favor, absence from the polls is a vote against.

Later Than You Think

July could be compared to a man who is just past forty and suddenly awakes to the realization that life is slipping away. He is over the hump, on the downward slope, and the question is: What happened to all the time that used to stretch endlessly before him, and all the interesting and ambitious things he wanted to do?

So it is with July. Suddenly the year is half over, and most of the resolutions made away back in January are still just resolutions. Here it is six months later, time has gone on, but accomplishments seem to have stood still.

July has an advantage over being forty, however. The summer provides a breather in the form of a vacation, which enables people to get their mind and hand and themselves for the remainder of the year. Smart people allow themselves enough leisure during their vacation to indulge in some unhurried thoughts about the months to come.

If their contemplations have been productive they'll be able to go back to work at the end of their vacations filled with all the ambition, enthusiasm and optimism with which most of them greeted the New Year.

People in their forties don't usually have this opportunity. Life at that time is at its busiest, and the chance to stop off the merry-go-round and watch the action for a while is not something most people in their forties can manage.

But there's one consolation. July and forty may be past the halfway mark, but it's still a long time until December.

Provincial Affairs

By J. Rudy Irving

Last week an Edmonton newspaper went on to a long and detailed article on the results of a plebiscite held in St. Paul on July 7th. The article was entitled "St. Paul's New Town Hall Project". It was a well-written and informative article that provided a lot of information about the project and the results of the plebiscite. It was a good read and is well worth a look.

World Of Wheat

In recent days the nerve center of the wheat trade was the Liverpool market which was closed with the outbreak of hostilities.

New, says some Liverpool and London have decided to establish a new market for wheat. There will mainly provide trading facilities for home grown wheat.

London's planning is in terms of a new market contract, Liverpool, on the other hand, with its long experience and tradition of international wheat trade.

More and more of Britain's wheat is being used as feed for animals. The wheat acreage has changed little over the years, including around the 2 million acres level. However, the production of wheat has been changed, and it is of a different type, and the quality of the wheat has been improved.

There has been considerable controversy about wheat, particularly concerning the grain and the quality of the wheat. The quality of the wheat has been improved, and the quantity of the wheat has been increased.

According to H. B. Jeffrey, supervisor of Artificial Insemination with the Alberta Department of Agriculture, the practice has been strong arguments in its favor. For instance, an animal should be mated to a bull of the same breed as the one it is to be mated to. This means the number of bull calves will be less.

Jeffrey reported to the U.S.A. a meeting where he was called upon to report on the results of his research. He said that the results of his research showed that the practice of artificial insemination was a very effective method of improving the quality of the wheat.

Back June 1, 1964 I gave you an outline of the work of the St. Paul Artificial Breeding Association. Today I will add a few more of my own opinions.

Most of you who have read the report of the St. Paul Artificial Breeding Association will have noticed that the work of the association is to improve the quality of the wheat.

Good Job Well Done

The measure of success of a public event is usually assessed by attendance and with this as a basis, the Family Recreation Day held Monday was a relative success.

It was not so much the attendance of the adults which made it so, but the hundreds of children who scamped around the centre and the grounds with enthusiasm to take in all the attractions unfolding before their eyes.

As it was pointed out in previous editorials, the main purpose of the celebration was unity within the family circle and a chance to get together for a day. The purpose in itself was well achieved, though we did note that some parents gave their children a buck and sent them on their own to spend it. At least the children got some fun out of it, but the point was missed by these people.

It was fitting that Mr. G. R. Rice, guest of honor given by John L. Logsdon.

There are many others in the picture, including Rene Foy, who was Secretary-Manager of the Family Recreation Day.

At this time of the year when many are away on holidays, and the weather backbones from the lake are in it, it is often difficult to work with a full complement and the task falls on the few who are left and forced to take on extra duties.

Compared to last year, the added crowd of the official opening of the centre drew crowds in spite of the rain. St. Paul's Family Day was a success and an example of what can be achieved within the community family with the co-operation of the individual families.

You Pay Twice When You Ask Advice

Professional help is getting to be big business these days. Whether it's a personal problem or advice on how to run a million-dollar business, there are so many experts around willing to help that it's providing a big new source of income for the yellow pages of the telephone directory.

It's getting to the stage where people don't sit down and figure out their problems any more. They call in management consultants, motivational researchers, time study experts, public opinion pollsters, practicing psychiatrists or Royal Commissioners.

Take the case of the small Canadian city that recently decided to seek outside help on its problems. It wound up with an economic and industrial survey, a report on its traffic flow patterns, an analysis of recreational facilities, a projection of future hospital needs, an evaluation of possible sites for its civic centre, an appraisal of future school expansion, a thesis on its sewage plant and a confidential assessment of city hall personnel performance.

It cost the city about $350,000 for assorted surveys — to find out it needed to spend about $5 million on new facilities, just to keep up with progress. Then it had to hire public relations experts to convince people they should vote the money.

Experts seem to figure that if you can afford to ask their opinion, you can afford to spend money following it.

Professional help has one advantage, though. If the project turns sour, you can always blame the expert.

Too Much Prosperity

A social worker recently came up with a theory many people have been nourishing for some time: That juvenile delinquency is connected not so much with poverty, as with prosperity.

In the old days people used to think it was the under-privileged kids who got into trouble. Now increasing numbers of young people from affluent homes are tangling with the police.

Contributing factors appear to be cars, drink and money.

Just another case, apparently, of the things we want most being the worst for us.

Skateboarding Dangerous Says Safety Council

With school closing and summer vacation, skateboarding has become a popular pastime for many young people. However, it is not without its dangers. The St. Paul Safety Council has issued a warning to parents and children alike.

The council reports that many children are injured each year as a result of skateboarding accidents. These injuries range from minor cuts and bruises to more serious fractures and head injuries.

The council advises parents to supervise their children when they are skateboarding and to ensure that they are wearing proper safety gear, including helmets and knee pads.

Children should also be taught to skate in safe areas, away from traffic and other hazards.

The council also advises children to avoid skateboarding on public property, such as sidewalks and streets, as this is often illegal and can result in fines or arrest.

SKY DIVING HIGHLIGHT OF FAMILY DAY

Survey Indicates Continued Warm Weather Is Needed

During the week ending July 26, the weather was generally warm and sunny, with temperatures ranging from 60 to 80 degrees Fahrenheit. This is a significant improvement over the previous week, which was characterized by cooler temperatures and more frequent rain.

The local office of the Bureau of Meteorology, which is part of the Department of Agriculture, has issued a forecast for the next week. It predicts that temperatures will continue to rise, with a high of 85 degrees and a low of 65 degrees.

It is hoped that this weather will be beneficial to the local agricultural community, particularly the grain growers. A period of continued warm weather is essential for the proper growth and development of the crops.

Doing Something About The Weather

In Canada everybody talks about the weather, but it would hardly be true to say nobody does anything about it.

The meteorological branch of the Department of Transport is doing quite a bit about the weather, keeping careful records of the highs, lows, means and extremes from Herschel Island to Cape Sable.

Although their labors haven't done much to change things, the statistics may be of some comfort. Because the branch's climatic tables indicate that no matter how bad the weather is, it could almost certainly be worse somewhere else.

Those who don't live in Ottawa, for instance, may be heartened by the fact that below-zero weather has been registered in the capital city six months out of twelve.

Or consider Regina, where extremes range from 110 degrees in summer to 56 below in winter, and wind chill temperature has equaled 100 below. That is a spread of 206 degrees.

Be glad you don't live in Fort Simpson, North West Territories, with a high of 97 and a low of 69 below. Or Cambridge Bay, where it has been 31 below in May and 25 below in October.

When it comes to weather, Canadians seem to have the worst of both worlds, with sizzling summer and wailing winters.

It's the perfect days — as scarce as they are — that make the rest of the year bearable.

What Cuthbert May Mean

Higher prices. Bigger wage demands. Money increasingly difficult or expensive to raise. Those, Dalton Robertson says in The Financial Post, are the likelihoods flowing from this year's unusually heavy capital spending plans and Ottawa's concern over its inflationary potential. Business and government now plan to lay out at least $12,846 million on new capital projects in 1965, according to Trade and Commerce. This marks an upward revision of more than 4 percent from estimates made at the beginning of the year and as predicted, a 19 percent year-to-year increase in place of the 14 percent gain originally expected. Ottawa's problem now is to keep the boom rolling strongly through into 1966 without allowing price inflation to develop. To this end, the government has decided to stretch out completion schedules for some joint capital projects and postpone others directly under its control. It plans to forego an excessive build-up of materials prices and wage rates. But the buildup on the capital front, plus buoyant consumer spending fed by income tax cuts, suggests that holding the price line could entail substantial changes in Canada's monetary climate. The prospect: Credit less readily available than it has been. Borrowing costs up a notch or two. All this to stall the current rise in prices at all levels and to relieve the growing pressures on manpower supplies.

Fire Prevention At Lake

When staying in your summer cottage take extra care to prevent fires. Each such building should have a fire extinguisher in a handy place. Your cigarettes should never be left burning but while you are smoking, use a big deep ashtray. Near the kitchen stove keep a large package of baking soda — for use if a pan of grease should flare up. Generous use of this will smother the fire. It will also put out chimney fires if thrown into the fire.

Pasteurization

Milk, one of our most important foods may, in its raw state, carry germs of undulant fever and other diseases. Milk should always be pasteurized, simply if possible, otherwise by one of the simple home methods of bringing it to a simmer in a pan over direct heat for one half minute and then cooling quickly.

This Is Canadianism!

The St. Paul Chamber of Commerce, being more concerned about what Canada is, than what it should be, is holding a series of lectures on the subject of Canadianism.

This, Then, Is Canadianism!

Alberta's Youth Citizenship Awards are sponsored annually by Canadian Utilities Limited and the other 11 utility companies serving the people of the province.

The Justice (Citizens) Award program is aimed at giving recognition to deserving young Albertans who have made outstanding contributions or have given service to their communities.

Award winners last year were taken on a tour of Alberta's Legislative Building. Included in the tour was an informal meeting with Premier E. Stelmach, who took a personal interest in the award winners and spent time chatting with them.

Through the St. Paul Chamber of Commerce and the St. Paul Journal, the idea is to promote Canadianism and recognize the contributions made by some of our outstanding citizens.

Exciting Preview

Travelling broadens the outlook and as such the Centennial Student Exchange program has opened new horizons for the young people who have had the opportunity to be chosen for east and west trips. The twenty-four students from the St. Paul district who went to Hull, Quebec, in July have not yet finished recounting their adventures and will retain many fine memories along with the educational value their trip provided.

It is groomed them to be good hosts and when a group from Kirkland, Ontario arrived in St. Paul last week, they extended a warm friendly hand of welcome, took these young people in their homes and were more than pleased and equipped to show them around the countryside to get a first hand impression of our life, western style in the rural communities of Alberta.

The parents were more than co-operative and went out of their way to entertain, on holiday trips to near and far points of the country.

We feel that the purpose of the exchange has been very well achieved in that the students were not centralized in the bigger area, but given the opportunity to live with the people who are the actual citizens, take part in the economy of his country of the world lives and know their customs.

The vision of a united Canada cannot be better achieved than through the exchange of young people who will become the leaders of tomorrow with a better understanding of their neighbors' problems.

Place For A Weekly

By J. Wally Strong

This past week may be better termed — the week the weekly newspapers spoke out.

As most of our readers know — the national convention for weekly publishers and editors was held in the Macdonald Hotel in the city of Calgary.

For a change the daily newspaper writers found the weeklies were a good source of information. Although they don't come out and print it — it's a well known fact that most daily publishers, editors and writers think very little of the weekly operation.

After having spent several years in the weekly field — I can only say that the daily newspaper operators will one day realize that the weekly newspapers have a strong place in our society and as long as the calibre of weekly operators continues to improve — there will always be a place in every home for the weekly news even after millions are spent — on unsuccessful dailies which are operated by men who think of the dollar before the community in which they live.

Russian Wheat Deal Well Timed

By J. Wally Strong

A $450 million Russian wheat sale will spread for the first time the Prairie farmer and developments in Canada's stock, bond and foreign exchange markets tell that story. But as for the forming community itself — a vastly important sector of the Canadian economy — it's the timing of the Russian deal that is highly significant. The timing, in fact, is perfect. For the second time in the 1960s the Russians have come in to buy large quantities of wheat during a year of high production — preventing the huge piles of wheat that caused so much concern in the 1950s.

When early estimates put this year's crop at more than 800 million bushels — 60 per cent higher than the average of the previous 10 years — the president of the National Farmers Union spoke out on the problems of another big surplus. Now, virtually overnight, the picture has changed again. The potential problems of a big surplus — such as costs of storage — have been wiped away. The 1965 crop could still be at least equal to the record 723 million bushel crop in 1963, the first time the Russians made their big purchases.

If there's another big crop next year, however, will we be saved again? This crop year's 600 million bushel plus export level is getting close to our present capacity to deliver.

for continuing to work full time for the next 10 years. If you are retiring with a monthly pension of $1,200, you will receive $120,000 from the Canada Pension Plan and $75,000 from Old Age Security over the next 10 years. The total of $195,000. That's almost 66% of $297,000, the amount you would have received if you had continued to work full time for another 10 years. If he is ill or out of work for as long as two years, or if his wife dies before he does, his pension will be reduced by 10 years before his regular wage, or if his wife dies within 10 years after he dies, his pension will be reduced by 5 years. This is because he has not worked for 10 years. This is because of the Pension Insurance Act.

If he works for 10 months or less or no earnings do come in, the amount of the pension.

If he works in total 70 and earns higher wages than he would before, he will get a pension. For example, if he earns $10,000 a year, he will get $33,000 a year. His pension will be $61,700 a month instead of $24,100.

1976 becomes decadal for 1976, if you have lost a job, are unemployed and have earnings of less than $10,000 a year, you will get the rate of $33,000 a year. Your employer will pay some amount.

All benefits under the Plan will be reduced by 10% for each month that you are unemployed. All benefits payable will probably be reduced by 10% for each month that you are unemployed. This change in living costs and in the way they are paid, and the changes in living costs and in the way they are paid, will be the same for all.

What will the Plan cost you?

If you, like Joe Costello, are employed and have earnings of less than $10,000 a year, you will get the rate of $33,000 a year. Your employer will pay some amount.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important features of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

Paving And Cleanliness

Parts of a few streets and avenues were paved this year with the program almost not completed... (just got in under the wire).

No one can say that the Town of St. Paul is splurging on its street paving program. It is almost eight years since the main street was paved by the Provincial Department and since then the action on the side streets and avenues has been crawling at a snail's pace.

All we have done is the main street, on avenue north, and one south from the church to the whole sale, and the connecting links of one block on streets each way.

The slowness of the program is defeating itself inasmuch as the mud carried from the side streets makes the problem of cleaning the existing pavement almost impossible and there have been times this year when it was hard to differentiate the black top from other roads.

We have had the occasion to travel through many other small towns who seem to be head and shoulders ahead of us. Smoky Lake for instance has a very modern and comprehensive program. Two Hills is well paved. Redwater is going ahead by leaps and bounds.

We feel that perhaps when the town makes its budget next year greater consideration be given to curbing and paving to extend it in the residential areas as quickly as possible.

While we are on the subject of streets, the cleaning program could stand some revision. The main street is constantly littered with paper. This is no fault of the officials but of the residents who scatter paper or the four winds, and it takes the garbage collecting department is unable to cope with it.

A few years ago, receptacles paid for by advertising the businessmen were strategically located for convenient use, but hardly anyone has the foresight and is proud enough of the cleanliness of the town to muster the energy to push the lid down and dispose of waste.

This is particularly noticeable around the stores (no fault of theirs) and the confectionaries where chocolate and candy wrappers are dispersed to the high winds by children and adults alike.

Serious consideration should be given to these problems with a view of cleaning up this mess and bringing the appearance of our streets to a standard commensurate with the progress and reputation of this town.

Where The Voters Should Look

To judge by the preliminary skirmishes and early campaigning, candidates in the current election are hard pressed to find an economic issue they can really get their teeth into. So far, the controversy has usually been waged on topics of relatively little importance to the public conduct of this country's business. The reasons aren't hard to find.

This time, in contrast to a few years ago, there is no crisis in our balance of payments, no flight of confidence, no presentiment of deep economic troubles. Right now, the unemployment rate is not remotely on issue. Labor is in short supply and unemployment is down to levels not achieved for nearly a decade.

In sharp contrast to the late 1950s, we don't have mounting budget deficits, record-high payments deficits, tight money or a painful premium on the dollar. Indeed, the devalued dollar has given our exports tremendous forward thrust. Canada's economy has done a dramatic turnaround from the late 1950s.

New directions in Canada's commercial, tax and monetary policies have encouraged the process of change. They have gone far to bring this country into line with the realities of a much-changed industrial world. In such an atmosphere, opposition parties are plainly going to avoid sensible discussion of current economic issues. There is no political profit in appearing to run against prosperity.

SUMMER FADING AWAY INTO FALL
 The fall season has always inspired the poets, stimulated artists and well it should with its myriad of color and general atmosphere. Here our camera caught a suitable scene at Whitney Lake where many lovers are watching the sunset. All was calm and serene.

Central Supplies Opens Doors Of Modern Store

In 1958 Joe Bennett and Charles Bennett bought the Central Supplies store from William and Blanche Bennett.

In these days the building was in need of renovation and modernization.

But as the years evolved and the Bennett family grew up, the business through their own initiative and hard work, they have built a modern store.

They completed the last two years of the building, for the new store is now open.

On these pages is greater evidence of a fine store, managed by the Bennett family.

The building is a tribute to the Bennett family, who have built a modern store.

BLACKLEG AND BUD BURN
Do you sometimes grow cotton every year for marketing and marketing? Then you are probably in a position to suffer from blackleg and bud burn. The main difference between the two diseases is that blackleg attacks the roots of the plant, while bud burn attacks the leaves. Both diseases are caused by a fungus which enters the plant through the roots or leaves. Blackleg can be prevented by using resistant varieties and by rotating crops. Bud burn can be prevented by using fungicides and by avoiding over-fertilization. For more information, contact the Agricultural Service Board.

St. Paul is a Busy Town

We don't know if it hits everybody the same way, but from a newspaper's point of view, St. Paul is a town buzzing with activity. It sometimes takes more than our combined forces to cover what is going on.

Looking at last week, we can describe it only as an extraordinary one with its round of activities. With the works done all fall and promotions both in town and in the country getting in high gear, it's going to be a busy season from now until Christmas.

Among some of the activities going on were a filming and recording sequence by Radio Canada for the Recreation Centre, along with a special program for the children; the next night there was a program presented by Jean Pierre Ferland, French composer and singer; this was followed Friday night by the first Overture concert of a series of three featuring two talented artists, Sylvia Grant and Alexander Grant.

In between we sandwiched installation meeting for the Elks, the Moose, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, a meeting of the St. Paul Social Credit Association, probably a little too close to elections and sparsely attended; the Curling Club was putting the final touches to its ice surface starting the week with a mixed bonspiel Monday, the opening of Family Recreation night last Wednesday, the Knights of Columbus held their annual communion breakfast Sunday, followed by an oyster do on Monday, and regular meetings of the St. Paul Curling Club. The number of other organizations are always on the order of the day.

When one stops to realize that many of the same people participate in a number of organizations, it is often difficult to get around to all of them, and the reason sometimes why attendance may drop.

However, as a whole, believe us, St. Paul is one of the most active communities in Northern Alberta. Besides the thought of starting any more organizations.

Challenge To Real Statesmanship

The put-together of the new Parliament suggests that most Canadians are not convinced, and have not been a convinced for some years, that a strong and firmly directed central government is in their best interest.

Indeed, since the things that must now be done are major, complete of uncertain outcome, and in many cases unpopular, it is possible that the public senses its best position to be one of neutrality. The outcome of the election makes it abundantly clear, that it is now up to the reigning politicians to accommodate themselves to the kind of Parliament that the public, in its whim or wisdom, has provided. It is, after all, not up to the public to provide the kind of House that would best suit their pride, or, would like to sit, in seats of myth.

The fact is more Canadians vote for the Liberals than for any other party. They return with the right and the duty to lead the House. They have been given another chance at governing with a minority. They have the men to do the job. They must now get on with it, and show whether they can earn re-election, preferably in 1970.

Taxes Too High

Tax load of home owners in Alberta may be eased somewhat by grants on the basis of perhaps $100 a home. British Columbia pays grants on the basis of $100 a home, Manitoba grants up to $50, and Alberta is thinking about it.

St. Paul Journal notes that the grant plan makes no allowance for high taxes paid by town property owners relative to those paid in smaller rural areas.

Having a maximum grant is a discrimination against the home owners who pay more than, say, the $100 proposed. The Journal notes that the home-owner grant plan treats the moly without curing it. The real moly, of course, is that taxes are too high no matter who pays them.

THEY SHALL NOT GROW OLD... DEAD REMEMBERED AT CENOTAPH

Cold winds were whipping the leaves of world war dead and solemnly remembered at memorial service at the Cenotaph in St. Paul, Alberta, November 18th. Legion presented Paul Land and his wife, Mrs. Land, and their children, and a group of about 200 people gathered for the service.

On The Screen

The movie of the week is "The Sound of Music" starring Julie Andrews. It is a musical about a woman who becomes a governess for a family in Austria. The movie is a classic and is well worth watching.

THIS WEEK AND NEXT

Wanted: New Leaders. The St. Paul Social Credit Association is looking for new members and leaders. If you are interested in politics and want to make a difference, join today.

Medical Health Officer

Why can't the Northern Alberta Health Unit get and retain the services of a Medical Health Officer on a full time basis is a question which has been asked by many persons who are concerned with the health standards in this district?

Since the Health Unit has been organized seven years ago, four health officers have been through the St. Paul office, but most of the time the preventive health programs were administered by senior nurses. All of them have been very conscientious and have done a good job within the limit of their abilities.

But the operation of a successful health unit requires the services of a qualified medical health officer and every measure should be taken to obtain one full time. The Health Unit is now being serviced by a doctor from Vegreville who comes here on a part-time basis for a few days of the week. This is far from ideal as it is better than no doctor at all, but is far from filling the bill.

We know that Medical Health Officers are hard to get. They move into the small centres and are lured to the larger areas by more pay where the demand for their services are greater.

However, from some of the observations we have heard and through investigation on the reason why the last doctor left, there is suspicion that all was not well and some internal friction was the cause of the resignation.

Local politics became involved and after a very unpleasant affair, the Unit was left without the services of a medical health officer.

It will be remembered that both the Health Officer and the inspectors have a duty to perform which sometimes is not very pleasant, but must be done. The enforcing of such an edict on behalf of the general welfare of one community created a situation where undue influence was put into play to develop an untoward situation.

It will be remembered that the North Eastern Alberta Health Unit spreads from Smoky Lake to Cold Lake and is governed by a representative board from all the participating municipalities. This again often leads to difference of opinion and divergence of views which are not always to the best interest of the Unit as local issues sometimes take prominence and are injected into the policy making program.

But despite of all these handicaps, it would be well if the Board of Directors of the Health Unit itself should seriously undertake the full time services of a Medical Health Officer, and the next time one is found, make sure that no resignation occurs over irrelevant issues.

Defensive Driving

"Like any other country, Canada has its share of irresponsible drivers," said W. Arch Bryce, executive director of the Canadian Highway Safety Council. "The best protection a driver can take against these menaces is to anticipate their antics and avoid them before they create a crash." Mr. Bryce cautioned motorists to be constantly on the alert for the motorist who switches lanes or makes turns without signalling, tail-gates, drives for beyond a safe speed or, conversely, dawdles at speeds too slow. "Too many thoughtless ones," he said, "start to change lanes without making certain the way is clear. Others dart out from curb parking spaces blindly, or jam on their car's brakes without warning. Watch for them, and get out of their way."

Mr. Bryce said, "If you feel strongly about such drivers and seriously want to do something about them, don't try to educate them while you drive. Rather, become active in a road safety group such as the promotion of driver education, periodic vehicle examination or stronger laws to control the drinking driver."

He mentioned Safe Driving Week, the Council's annual road safety alertness campaign, as a good time to begin such action. The campaign will be observed across Canada from December 1 to 7 this year.

Christmas Shopping

Last week the Chamber of Commerce gave notice that it would discuss the Christmas Shopping hours for recommendation to the Town, inviting all merchants concerned to attend the meeting and discuss the matter for a conclusion satisfactory to everyone.

As usual there were only two persons in the merchandising (store) industry and one or two indirectly associated persons. Fortunately one of them had a suggestion which he developed and moved into a motion seconded by the second with the approval of the other business men present.

The solution which is publicized on the front page makes good sense and as such should be met with favor from most of the merchants.

What we're driving at is that everyone had the opportunity to participate in the deliberations and now that a decision has been made for the best in the interest of the community, let us all accept it as such in union so that the shopping public will not be confused by individual decisions which may inconvenience current and prospective customers to town.

Centennial Grant

In spite of the fact that St. Paul has an enviable record in centennial promotion, there still has been no application made for a centennial grant available to all communities.

This grant is available on a one third basis... that is the town or municipality has to put one third of the amount qualified for, the province one third and the federal one third.

In other words, St. Paul based on the 1963 population of 3261 when the plan was proposed at $2.00 per capita is eligible for $6,522.00 of which the town would have to further supply a third, bringing whatever project is planned up to $9,783.00. The County of St. Paul No. 19 has waived $2000.00 of a centennial grant in favor of the town which provided for over $9,177.00 as a suitable enterprise.

So far, several organizations have been studying the matter, proposals have been made to the town but nothing acceptable has been presented.

The deadline for application for the grant along with the plans for such is December 31st, 1965. Reasonable assurance of completion before 1967 must be given and the undertaking can only be made for a municipal project.

And so, we'd like to remind all civic organizations in St. Paul that time is running out and unless something is decided upon in the next few weeks we'll lose a tidy sum for some very worthwhile project we are certain is needed for the town and district.

Application has to be made through the town and they have all the information required.

Dandy Declines

One of the bright features of Canada's unsatisfactory political scene, is the withering of the Social Credit party.

Its parliamentary strength fell from 30 in 1962 to 24 in 1963 to 14 (including both wings) in the recent election. The strange party, in or outside Quebec, either advocates the funny money theories of C. H. Douglas or it does not. If it does not, its name is a gross deception. If it does, it is wicked to the oldest and nuttiest fallacy in economics.

There is no place for it except in limbo and its survival in no national affairs reflects little credit on Canadian political maturity.

In Alberta provincial politics, of course, the label worn by the ruling party lost all meaning many years ago. In B.C. provincial politics it never had a meaning of any time.

OLD TIME PICNIC IN ST. PAUL?
 Here's another old time picture out of the files of Mr. Arthur Cameron's collection. We haven't been able to find out who these people are, apparently a picnic of some sort, as we'll have the photo in the next issue.

Bilingualism & Biculturalism

Last week, in Edmonton, we had the rare occasion to sit in a few hours at the Biculturalism and Bilingualism hearings before Mr. A. Laurendeau at the Macdonald Hotel.

As we sat at the press table along with all the "big time" correspondents for the Canadian Press, other news services, the dailies and the radio and TV stations, equipped with two-way translations in English and French, we heard many opinions from a cross section of people representing ethnic groups, organizations and briefs presented on a personal basis. We even had a delegation from St. Paul speaking on behalf of the "Association Des Educateurs Bilingues de l'Alberta".

We were very impressed with the quality of the briefs which had to be submitted to the commission prior to the hearings so that the panel could study them beforehand and have an idea of what was in them for intelligent discussion.

The presentations were made by the chairman of the respective organizations in summary of its contents, after which the commission president and his panel asked supplementary questions to clear up some of the main points or locally as possible. The commission, drawing from its experience from other hearings also came up with suggestions, not so much to contradict or enhance the briefs, but to point out how these problems had been presented in other sections of the country, sometimes perhaps with a different approach with a view of injecting a certain amount of balance and understanding in the proceedings.

As a whole the briefs were full presented in diplomatic language, politely explained and the questions of the panel fairly serious. There were one or two briefs, from our point of view, which were completely out of line, obvious and would have been better left out, but for a sense of justice to give everyone a chance to express themselves according to our democratic way of life.

However, there is still a wide gap between the people of Canada as each organization came up to "grind" on us on their own behalf with nationalities trying to justify for the best position at the post ...

Bilingualism is not biculturalism seems to be getting through, many of the briefs forwarded a national language with reservations just what it should be. French seems to have the advantage as long as it was confined to cultural rather than patriotic levels and as suggested by one university professor with less undertones of religion attached to it.

Contrary to some statements that have been made that biculturalism and bilingualism are threatening to split the nation apart, we believe that the findings of the commission through the intelligent and honest expressions of opinions of the polyglot population of this country will eventually bring out a point of view which may be acceptable to all. We'll always have our minority fanatics whose opinions will continue to show discord but they will be counteracted by majority who are intelligent enough to realize what is best for the country and will support a middle of the way course to bring harmony and unity to Canada.

Buy Independent

Do you know that your dollar buys Freedom and Opportunity for your boys and girls when it is spent with your local independent merchant?

Your dollar helps preserve a traditional system of producer, manufacturer, processor, broker, wholesaler, retailer and clerk, guaranteeing freedom and opportunity at every level of trade and commerce.

Dollars pay a bigger share of tax bills, because local store owners reside in or near the community where their business is operated, not here today and gone tomorrow.

If spent with local merchants, your dollar is banked locally, invested locally, insuring greater stability to Canadian Community Life. You thus strengthen your Civic Clubs, Charity Drives, Church and School Activities in which Local Businessmen play a vital part.

Yes, when your dollar goes independent your Community and Nation goes independent, and Pride, Progress and "Dreams Come True" for your boys and girls will be your reward. So help keep Canada independent.

WHEN DOES MY TURN COME ... WORRIES YOUNG FAN
The scene is the Christmas party at the home of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robinson. The young man, Mr. J. H. Robinson, is standing and speaking to the group. He is wearing a suit and tie. The group consists of several people, including women in formal attire. The setting is a well-lit room with a festive atmosphere.

With the Christmas
 Star reminding us of Love, Peace and Good Will,
 we joyfully thank all our wonderful customers for their patronage.

*"Make you to have this day
 to the city of David a Christmas,
 which is Christ the Lord"*

While humble shepherds watched their flocks, a heavenly glory shone upon them, as herald angels sang of a Holy Child. Far to the East a Star shone, guiding the wise men in their search for Him. Across the years the sacred message shines for us today, ever renewing in our hearts all the joy and wonder, the hope and promise of that Holy Night, on that day.

As we worship in spirit at the blessed manger, we wish for all a truly joyous Christmas, with its meaning, with faith over danger... with inspiration ever greater.

Keeping a TV show interesting and entertaining for the next few days, Laura Lindsay is preparing a show for the Christmas season. Lindsay, who is a well-known television personality, is currently working on a special Christmas edition of her show. She is planning to feature a variety of holiday-themed segments, including interviews with local artists and a look at the Christmas markets in St. Paul.

About Trees ...

The St. Paul City Council has passed a resolution to encourage the use of live Christmas trees. The council believes that live trees are a more environmentally friendly option than artificial ones. They are also a renewable resource and can be replanted after the holidays. The council is planning to launch a campaign to promote the use of live trees, including a contest for the best decorated live tree in the city.

TEEN-AGES Teaching Consumer Credit

In the past fifty years, consumer credit has become a vital part of the American way of life. Through the use of credit, consumers can purchase goods and services that they could not otherwise afford. However, it is important for teenagers to learn about consumer credit and how to use it responsibly. The Teen-Ages program is designed to teach teenagers about the benefits and risks of consumer credit.

The first of the Teen-Ages program was presented to the students of the St. Paul High School. The program was presented by the St. Paul City Council and the St. Paul Board of Trade. The program was a great success and the students enjoyed learning about consumer credit. The program will be repeated in the future.

the season we would have been caught in deficit with no winning team.

Prior to this season the organization in St. Paul were not called for assistance in the operation of the hockey club, but we did not get very far.

The only help that we received was that three St. Paul officials came to operate the commonwealth team for us. The Governor said they could not come to man the game and the Auxiliary Fire Dept. was compelled to raise money by having a dance and by Reasons are many (reasons due to lack of attendance, due to very poor facilities, due to no game, nor do we use a lot of having teenagers come and paying them money to play salaries, which is beyond the capacities of any of our clubs).

The trend of thought here seems to be one of withdrawal from minor hockey and concentrating on building up the local talent.

The agency is actually making a study to determine if it will be necessary to divert some of the road funds to the state highway department, so we can have a better idea of the cost of the program," says the state highway engineer. Meeting With The Cabinet

It is always a pleasant duty every year to join in with the executive members of the Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association to present a brief to the Alberta Cabinet.

We always find the Premier and his Ministers very well disposed to receive us, listen to our brief and on any other subject which might be brought up by the delegation or introduced by the ministers themselves, seeking out general information for policy making.

The weekly newspapers, recognizing the strong trend to socialism, commended the Premier on his stand against compulsory intrusion in the private lives of its citizens and its attitude to resist creeping socialism.

Of course, we reason that much of this socialism is being brought about by people themselves who are demanding more and more help from the governments, failing to realize that every time they receive handouts, their liberty is being compromised by the necessary controls which have to follow.

The Weekly Newspapers, although they did not take an official stand on daylight saving time, one way or the other, felt that in view of the stimulation and pressure of this issue being forced by other organizations, the time has come when a plebiscite should be taken to get an answer to the problem. Mr. Manning indicated that steps are being taken to bring this up to the people soon.

On liquor advertising the papers were pleased that Mr. Manning had taken the decision of the cabinet. Not so much for the revenues this may bring but for the freedom of the press and choice. Several of the editors present who had suggested this brief on liquor as a whole with the association, pointed out that they had refused liquor advertising as a matter of policy as their conscience dictated.

Apart from the official brief, civil rights were introduced into the discussion and an interesting half hour on the subject proved very interesting.

It led to the introduction of the practicability of an ombudsman which has been tried out in several countries of the world. Mr. Hooper speaking on the matter from experience at a meeting in New Zealand where this type of an appeal court for the public was discussed, said that he would not recommend it in this country. When this was instituted in New Zealand, there were over 110,000 complaints listed with the grievance board. After these had been carefully sifted only 10 per cent were judged acceptable for further review and these boiled down to about one per cent eligible.

It was just too much of an economical burden to administer. To reduce the number of crank complaints, a deposit now has to be paid with application.

The cabinet impressed us with its sincerity on civil rights and its desire to give every person in Alberta the opportunity to get fair treatment in the courts and all phases of administration where rules and regulations have to be imposed.

Abandoned Cars On Streets

Lots of snow has been piling up this year with drifts growing in size along curbs backing up traffic to the middle of the road.

These natural hazards and impediments are bad enough without the number of abandoned cars parked on the streets through the winter months and sometimes all year.

The town has a by-law to cover parking over 48 hours, but it is very seldom invoked and placed in force. It should be at least in the streets and avenues which are close to the centre of the town and where the space should be used for regular parking.

Frankly, if we had a car, not in use for the winter we would hesitate to park it in such a vulnerable place as a street where it can be banged around by other vehicles moving on slippery roads. And it happens often enough.

Why not park them in the back alleys, the yards, or driveways where people, Thelma, who you would protect your car, make driving safer and remove an unpleasant and cumbersome eye sore.

COLD SNAP PREVAILS CAUSING INCONVENIENCE

The cold snap has forced many parents to drive their children to school with a resulting traffic jam around town in the morning. The cold snap is also causing inconvenience to the public in general.

Alberta Affairs

 The Alberta Liberals may be disappointed to learn that they seem to have been forgotten in the recent election. The party's defeat was a surprise to many who had expected a narrow victory.

The Liberal Party of Alberta has been in a state of flux since the election. The party's leadership has been challenged by several members, and the party's future is uncertain. The party's defeat was a surprise to many who had expected a narrow victory.

In selecting laborers, it is not to be feared that the law will be abused. The law does not allow the employer to discriminate on the basis of race, color, or religion. The law also provides for the protection of the laborer's health and safety. The law is a landmark in the history of labor relations in the United States. It is a law that will be remembered for many years to come.

A good plan to follow during purchasing material is to take home a sample and place it in the chair or window where it is to be used. In this manner you can tell by visual touch the material is appropriate to the furniture color and design. I call them "chair swatches." The following table contains the color of the fabric and the color of the chair seat.

You must also decide whether or not the curtains or draperies should be hung. There are many drapery fabrics on the market that do not require lining. However, lining is often used. I add a vinyl mesh to lining each drapery and to make them moisture proof. Overcast sunlight can weaken the fabric and cause color fading.

Minor Hockey Deserves Support

In St. Paul we have been very fortunate, the past decade to have an organization which has taken the lead and the responsibility for the promotion of minor hockey.

Over 200 boys of all denominations are currently participating and learning to play hockey on three outdoor rinks and the arena when available for special games.

In the past few years with the difficulty of obtaining material for a senior hockey club much more evidence this year since the demise of the Darts last week, we often wonder what the purpose is. True enough, experience has taught us that no matter how much effort is placed in training young hockey players, by the time they become of age to play in the senior ranks, they either have left for college, university, their parents have been transferred to another town, or they have taken better employment opportunities elsewhere.

True enough, but despite of these not too encouraging results, minor hockey is very valuable and plays an important role in the development and formation of youth. For a balanced education, academic pursuits must be blended with the physical activity to survive in the rough and tumble everyday boys face in the future. Athletics are one way to instill the will to fight within the FUN-damentals and ethics of good sportsmanship, enjoying the game which is more important than the score. For gotten championships, and learning to live tolerant with the rest of the world.

While we are urging you to support minor hockey week activities which will take place in this town next week, we would like to recognize the enthusiastic group of leaders who make it possible for every youngster to have an opportunity to participate in hockey under proper supervised conditions. Not only do they provide the facilities, but they make available to our young boys proper instruction and leadership so that the boys may develop their hockey skills.

But there is more to minor hockey than developing good players. Participation in this great sport provides exercise that will improve the body, training that will improve the mind, and an opportunity to learn co-operation, discipline and a respect for the rules. These are characteristics that will stand them in good stead throughout their lives.

In the meantime the community benefits. As we provide these youngsters with an opportunity to play, we know they are being kept off the streets, out of trouble and that they are in good hands.

The least we can do is to show our appreciation and support by attending the local minor week observances.

Business Incentive Recognized

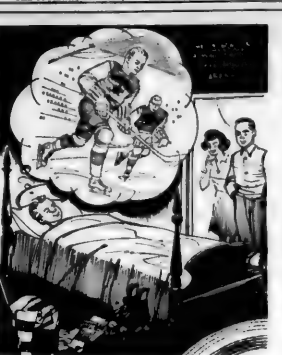

In another section of this newspaper, several pages of publicity announce the opening of a new feed service plant in Glendon.

This is particularly significant because the owners of this new venture are from St. Paul where they have been successful in their own business here to the point where they considered investment into the neighboring community of Glendon sound.

This also speaks well for Glendon in that it has developed to the point requiring such a service, with reasonable assurance that it will make full use of it for its economical operation and convenient service to the farmers of the area.

We have had the opportunity to visit the new plant and have found it modern, designed according to the latest needs with the equipment necessary to produce efficiently at competitive prices.

You are cordially invited to the official opening on January 29th.

Alberta Affairs

By John Warren

The reporting business, an old-fashioned, but very real, and very important, is just one of the many things that go into the making of a newspaper. It is the job of the reporter to get the news, to find out what is going on, and to tell the public about it. In the case of the minor hockey week, the reporter's job is to tell the public about the many activities that are taking place, and to encourage them to get out there and support the boys.

Provincial Affairs

By Wally Young

The end of the beginning of a new year is a time when many people look back on the past year and think about the things they have accomplished. In the case of the provincial government, the end of the year is a time when they look back on the past year and think about the things they have accomplished. The provincial government has a long and busy year ahead of it, and it is important that they continue to work hard to improve the lives of the people of Alberta.

THE HON. G. G. LEWIS, Minister of Agriculture, has announced that the provincial government will be providing a new feed service plant in Glendon. This is a very important step for the province, as it will provide a much-needed service to the farmers of the area. The plant will be owned and operated by a private company, but it will be subsidized by the provincial government. This is a very good example of the government's commitment to the agricultural sector.

New Out Variety Being Field Tested By Owlseye Farmer

William Dyer, of the Owlseye Farm, near St. Paul, is the first farmer in the province to field test a new variety of wheat. The new variety is called 'Owlseye' and is a cross between two different varieties of wheat. It is expected that the new variety will be a significant improvement over the old varieties.

The new variety is being field tested on the Owlseye Farm, which is located near St. Paul. The farm is owned by William Dyer, who is a well-known farmer in the area. The new variety is being tested in a field that is located near the farm. The results of the test will be reported in the next few weeks.

January 11, 1966

Dear Mr. Dyer, I am very interested in the new variety of wheat that you are field testing. It is a very important step for the province, and it is good to see that you are taking the lead in this. I hope that the new variety will be a significant improvement over the old varieties.

Misty Myth Or Fascinating Facts?

There are many myths about St. Valentine's Day, according to a Courts Hallmark historian, but the one most often quoted and most apt, simply, is that of the young priest named Valentine who was beheaded on February 14th, 270 A.D., perhaps because he brought young lovers together and secretly married them.

This, the story goes, was a crime under the stern wartime edict of the cruel Emperor Claudius who forbade marriages. It seems that Claudius found married men made poor soldiers, being loath to leave their families to go to war.

Before the self-hatched Valentine was led to his death, he penned a farewell note to his jailer's daughter who had been kind to him, and signed it "Your Valentine".

Seems fitting that for almost seventeen hundred years, the sainted Valentine has been honoured by lovers and all good friends too — by the sending of gay, demure, endearing, cheering or teasing cards, on February 14. Over 30 million valentines will be bought and sent by Canadians this year.

Phony Issue

Public credulity has been badly strained within the first week of Parliament's reopening. The Financial Post comments in a page-one editorial. This does not augur well for the completion of a heavy workload of vital legislation. Opposition politicians claim that a $25 per month increase in the old age security payments can easily be financed from Canada Pension Plan contributions. This, however, would totally destroy the actuarial basis of CPP. There are now 1,116,500 Canadians eligible for the pension. The extra $25 a month would remove a total of almost $335 million from the payments companies and individuals will pay into the CPP and the Quebec Pension Plan. By 1970, this $25 per month increase in the old age security payments would remove a total of almost $500 million from the fund being set aside for retired pensioners. To pretend that withdrawing this scale would not wreck a money taking in only $600 million-$700 million a year, is an affront to the intelligence of the public.

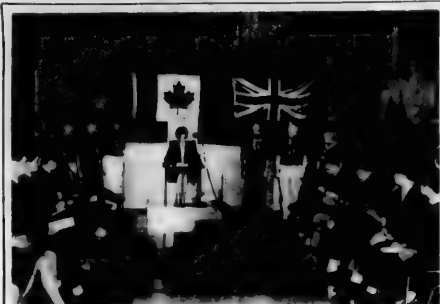

Avoid Inflation

The Executive Council of The Canadian Chamber of Commerce said the government should direct its efforts to maintaining the forward momentum of the economy and to avoiding the distortions of inflation.

In its annual pre-budget brief to the Ministers of Finance and National Revenue, the Chamber's Executive Council said it looks very much as if the moderate major economic problem will be to prevent the notable economic advances of the last few years from being dissipated by inflation.

Signs that the economy is rapidly approaching, if indeed it has not already reached, effective full capacity and employment levels are shown by rising prices and labour costs, a dramatic drop in the unemployment rate, and a growing shortage of certain types of labour, especially skilled labour.

There is need for continuing appraisal of all current and proposed government spending programs for the purpose of assigning priorities and of postponing those with the lowest priorities, so that the country may continue to enjoy prosperity without inflation. This was stated, calls for even greater emphasis than ever on federal-provincial co-ordination to ensure that fiscal restraint at the federal level is not offset by contrary action by the provinces.

Boy Scout Week in Canada
WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

The founder of the Scouting movement in the world, Lord Baden-Powell, will be remembered all this week by Scouting groups in Canada.

Locally, all Scouts and Cubs were allowed to wear their uniforms on Tuesday, February 22nd, the birthday of Baden-Powell. A father and son banquet was held in the United Church Hall Wednesday and Church Parade on Sunday.

The 1st St. Paul (Glen Avon) Scout Troop and Wolf Pack is sponsored by the Royal Order of the Moose and has 30 Scouts and 21 Cubs registered. Scoutmaster is Pastor J. A. Henry and Carl M. Keller is assistant. The Scouts meet every Monday evening at the Legion Hall.

Cubmaster is Leroy Overacker, while assistants are Karen Logg and Fred Fowler, Cub Scouts in the auditorium of Glen Avon Thursday nights.

The Scout Promise is our honor! I promise that I will do my best; to do my duty to God, and the Queen, to help other people at all times, to obey the Scout Law.

The Scout Law: 1. A Scout's honor is to be trusted. 2. A Scout is loyal to the Queen, his country, his Scouters, his parents, his employers and to those under his care. 3. A Scout's duty is to be useful and help others. 4. A Scout is a friend to all and a brother to every other Scout. 5. A Scout is courteous. 6. A Scout is a friend to animals. 7. A Scout obeys the orders of his patrol, Patrol Leader or Scoutmaster without question. 8. A Scout smiles and whistles under all difficulties. 9. A Scout is thrifty. 10. A Scout is clean in thought, word and deed.

Twelve good reasons why your boy should become a Scout: 1. Helps to fill a boy's time. 2. Helps build a boy's character. 3. Teaches him in citizenship. 4. Gives a boy opportunities of service. 5. Helps to make a boy handy. 6. Gives him a sense of honor and loyalty. 7. Teaches self reliance. 8. Helps to keep a boy healthy. 9. Helps develop a boy's natural gifts. 10. Helps to achieve happiness. 11. Widens a boy's outlook. 12. Scouting can help to make a man of your boy.

As soon as your boy is registered as a member of the Boy Scouts of Canada, he is covered by a nation-wide insurance policy which is supplementary to other coverages. It covers him if he is engaged in authorized Scout activities anywhere in the world. To enter Scouting a boy must be prepared to make the Scout Law and Promise and adhere to them. Boys under 11 years old, although some younger and others older, are allowed.

Cubbing is a program of fun and activity for boys 8 to 10 years of age. It offers boys in their own neighborhoods to work with others, develop responsibility and to increase skills in hobbies and handicrafts.

The Cub Promise is - I promise to do my best, to do my duty to God and the Queen, to keep the Law of the Wolf Cub Pack, and to do a good turn to somebody every day. Such a promise will assist them to develop a sense of service, responsibility, loyalty, obedience, unselfishness and of service to others. The Law of the Wolf Cub Pack is - The Cub gives to the Boy Wolf, the Cub does not give to himself.

A boy must be 8 years old to join and later when he becomes 11, it is hoped he will become a Scout and join in a program designed for his new interests and age. A new 5-star program has started to replace the 2-star system. A boy can start on any of the

CURLING ROCK SCROLLS FOR STEEDMAN

Before Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Steedman left St. Paul, the Curling Club recognized their friends by presenting them with a curling rock scroll. The scroll, which was presented to the Steedmans by the club members, was a beautiful work of art. The scroll was made of wood and was decorated with a design of a curling stone. The scroll was presented to the Steedmans by the club members, who were very proud to have them as members of the club.

Alberta Affairs

By John Warren

The Alberta government has announced that it will be introducing a bill to amend the Land Use Planning Act. The bill is intended to give the government more control over land use planning in the province. The bill will give the government the power to designate certain areas as "land use planning areas" and to require that any development in these areas must be approved by the government. The bill will also give the government the power to require that any development in these areas must be in accordance with a land use plan that has been approved by the government.

The bill is expected to be introduced in the Alberta legislature in the near future. It is expected that the bill will be passed by the legislature and that it will become law.

The bill is expected to be a significant step in the government's efforts to control land use planning in the province. It is expected that the bill will help to ensure that land is used in a responsible and sustainable manner.

Stimulating Student Week

The student week which concluded at the Racette Public School last week was stimulating and provided a meeting ground for students and teachers to find out what each thinks and believes about school administration, rules and regulations.

Although the show was entirely the students, the recommendations which have come out of it will be presented to the teachers and policy makers for acceptance, amendment and rejection, the results of which will give the students' union a reflection of their basic reasoning.

In a news writeup starting on the front page, it is deplored that although parents were invited to some of the sessions, very few of them turned up. We are forever hearing comments from parents who claim that this isn't being done and this other thing should be done, along with a lot of unjust criticism which has no basis of facts. Watching the well organized agenda of these students and listening to their intelligent deliberations, honest assessment, we have great confidence in the future of our youth. It is agreed that there is a small minority of teenagers who are hard to handle and give the generation a bad name. But, on the whole we find them intelligent, sensible and well able to search for answers to their problems in a reasonable manner.

Certainly, there must be hostility at times, as they wonder why some of their requests have been turned down, and authority is questioned.

But, as a whole the school administration is very co-operative and will give any reasonable request consideration under its own merits.

On the question of who has jurisdiction over the decisions presented by the Students' Union, the answer is obvious as it was explained by one of the group organizers. It necessarily has to be those who are responsible to the Board and the parents in the final analysis—the principal and the teachers who govern themselves according to established policy.

Twenty-four recommendations came out of the Royal Commission appointed to evaluate the week's discussions and opinions of the students. No doubt many of them will be adopted, some may be rejected, others are debatable and may be altered or rejected, but in essence we feel that all are important guides to establish school policy that will eventually satisfy the students and give them the sense of responsibility needed to develop good citizens for tomorrow.

More Foot-Dragging

While Governmentsicker, Indians suffer. The latest round in this perennial shuffle has to do with Alberta's Community Development Branch and the half-born agreement it has with federal authorities for an Operation Bootstrap on the reserves.

The province has signed an undertaking to share with the federal Indian agency the cost of providing community development officers for or within the reserves. The objective would be to assist, in an off-stage role, the implementing of self-betterment programs among Indians.

But Ottawa is verbal hard to go. To date it has given only verbal approval to the scheme, which it initially endorsed as a good thing. And until it signs the agreement, Alberta's hands are tied because on-reserve services are a federal matter.

Meanwhile, evidence is mounting of extreme hardship on some reserves, which must certainly benefit from the province's knowledge in community development work.

A month ago, the federal Indian Affairs director for Alberta said he hoped "the agreement will be consummated within the next few days."

Well, it's still waiting.

Why is Ottawa dragging its feet? We can't be certain, but this may offer a clue:

When the federal government decided to go along with the province on the Community Development program, it tried to take the province into agreement to its suggestion of turning over to Alberta, a cost-sharing basis, responsibility for on-reserve welfare. It was a sort of "opting-out" procedure in reverse.

But Alberta balked at this, claiming that on-reserve welfare comes under federal jurisdiction. How-

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:
 I have been a reader of your paper for some time and I have been very impressed by the quality of the journalism and the variety of the news coverage.

I found a note about a person who had been killed in a car accident. I was very sad to hear of this and I hope that the person's family will find some comfort in the knowledge that the person was a good person.

I was also very interested in the article about the new bridge that is being built over the river. I hope that the bridge will be completed soon and that it will be a great asset to the community.

Canadians On Final Round

It was with pleasure that we heard of the successes of the St. Paul Juvenile Canadians in Falher over the week-ends where the Northern Provincial "B" playoffs in a total-point series.

They have one more obstacle to surmount to make the grade as provincial champions when they meet the southern Alberta champions who have not yet been decided.

There would be no Canadians if it were not for the efforts of Clarence Hickman who has coached the Juveniles since he quit active hockey in the senior ranks. Clarence has welded a group of young players with ability who are a credit to St. Paul, carrying a sporting banner into many communities of the province.

The Chamber of Commerce went on record, Monday with special recognition and citation to the Juvenile Canadians for what they have accomplished so far.

This is the second time they have made it to the Provincial finals, losing out to Tobler a few years ago. We wish them luck and hope this time they will go all the way. But, win or lose, there has been a fine team effort and for St. Paul which has had to pick up senior hockey this year, it has been a pleasure to fall back on the Juveniles for winter sports entertainment.

Slow Moving Mail

We are getting a number of complaints on mail deliveries in the smaller portions of northern Alberta. Many small post offices have been closed and the mail is centered on the larger areas where it is sometimes held a week or more for distribution.

What has really happened is that with truck services in operation, the mail arrives at the main centers, where it is distributed from there to other addresses.

The problem arises when there is only weekly or semi-weekly service to these small points. A letter arriving the day of the deliveries or after it usually held up for the next week's delivery, bringing it in sometimes as much as 10 days late.

A point in this area has recently complained about this to the Inspector's Department in Edmonton, but apart from acknowledgment of the letter, nothing has happened.

The St. Paul Journal has lost many subscribers over this delay of postal delivery. We can't blame a subscriber for cancelling when he receives the paper ten days old, with all the bargains and the announcements being something of the past.

We would like to add our voice to the complaints of our subscribers and those who are affected by this type of mail service which is not really a service, but procrastinated delivery.

Family Recreation Night

To make full use of the Recreation Centre for what it was designed — a gathering place for the family to enjoy itself — the Chamber of Commerce backed the formation of a Family Recreation Night, last fall.

This promotion got under way on a good basis, with the parents coming out with the children and enjoying an evening of badminton, volleyball ball and other sports.

At the last Chamber of Commerce meeting the complaint was voiced that attendance was dropping, with the parents staying home and the children coming out on their own. The supervisors felt that they were being reluctant to bring sitting for parents who want their kids out of the way. The purpose of the family night has been defeated somewhat and unless parents show more interest in showing an evening with their children, it may be discontinued.

This was a good opportunity to make full use of the fine Recreation Centre St. Paul has at its disposal, and we highly recommend that you support this enterprise.

CANADA'S CENTURY

A new background special on the Centennial of Confederation

The Need Was Compelling

United of A Nation
by WALLY TROTT

It was neither political nor economic necessity that steadily drove the Fathers of Confederation to the table. Their motives were far more practical. When the rebellious colonies could not find the resources to meet the British demands, there was a need for a stronger political and economic union.

The 21 delegates who met in 1784 at the Constitutional Conference in London have left a legacy that has shaped the nation. Their decisions have led to the creation of a strong, unified Canada.

The need was compelling. The Fathers of Confederation were driven by the need to create a strong, unified Canada that could stand up to the demands of the world.

Your Chamber Of Commerce

What is a Chamber of Commerce? A group of businessmen devoted to prove that the sun shines all the time in our municipality? Public spirited citizens banded together to see that the community enjoys the highest possible standard of living? Supporters of free enterprise and our democratic way of life? Business men trying to bring new industry and more tourists to this area? These are some of the most commonly held ideas about the Chamber of Commerce. Whatever it is said about the Chamber of Commerce, there is one thing sure — it is, or should be, one of the most important organizations in the town.

The work of the Chamber of Commerce touches nearly every citizen. In most towns the Chamber is responsible for tourist promotion. In many others it undertakes the work of an industrial commissioner, seeking new industry for the town and district. Usually, it takes a leading part in community efforts, improving relations between the farmers and the businessmen, sponsoring clean-up and beautification projects, a host of similar projects. Few Chambers of course, do all these things because they are in the main a volunteer organization.

Up until now we have been dealing generally on what type of work a Chamber of Commerce can accomplish and does in a small community.

By looking at the St. Paul Chamber and its activities in the past year, we can fully realize what this group of businessmen have been doing for St. Paul.

The St. Paul Chamber, except for summer recess, meets every Monday for a luncheon meeting. For about an hour members deal with a number of vital problems which greatly affect the economic, material and even social life in town.

The St. Paul Chamber of Commerce provides the motivation for Centennial activities which have emanated from St. Paul and spread through every part of Canada. Just last week, St. Paul was the center of the Lakedown Tourist Association which has joined in an effort to promote this industry and bring more money into the pockets of all residents.

Influence of the St. Paul unit on town legislation is very important. Through opinions from the Chamber, the councillors are able to feel the pulse of the people and legislate accordingly.

The Chamber has spearheaded Family Day celebrations in St. Paul which are unique for the support of its modern Recreation Centre. These are only a few of the undertakings which have proved profitable to the town.

St. Paul has built the reputation of having one of the most active Chambers of Commerce in the province. There are 150 businesses listed in town, but the success of the promotion rests with about thirty to forty active, progressive, hard working, dedicated nucleus who realize the importance of planning for the future. But where are the rest of them? Those who might be classed as passive citizens, riding the band wagon of profit without putting any effort for the benefits they reap? We would like many more business men in this town to participate in and support the activities of their Chamber of Commerce. One segment conspicuously absent are the merchants who stand to go to the other businesses, riding the band wagon of profit without putting any effort for the benefits they reap? We would like many more business men in this town to participate in and support the activities of their Chamber of Commerce.

The St. Paul Chamber of Commerce has gone a long way in this town. However, there is a lot more to accomplish and much more can be done if a great percentage of the people who are directly affected would pull their share of the load by their participation. Let's make this our resolve during this week reserved to the Chamber and for the 51 others throughout the year.

A protective measure in the home is to familiarize every adult member of the family with the phone numbers of police, fire department and family doctor. A list of these should be kept handy in the phone. Each member, including the bigger children, should know how to turn off electricity, gas and water at the main where these utilities enter the building.

ARTS AND CRAFTS EXHIBITION IN ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Alberta

The week of April 17 to 23 has been designated National Chamber of Commerce week, to focus attention on the important work this organization does for your community.

St. Paul Chamber Of Commerce

has accomplished the following for you in the past year.

1. CENTENNIAL PROJECTS

St. Paul has achieved the reputation of being the Centennial Town of Canada. This came about by active organization of the Chamber of Commerce from which the basic idea was developed and promoted.

2. ROADS AND HIGHWAYS

Communication, which is the telephone play an important part in the development of our community. The Chamber of Commerce is constantly putting pressure on the municipal and provincial government to bring up roads to the best standards possible in the interest of the community.

3. TOURIST PROMOTION

This industry is very important in an area like St. Paul. To help promote it the Chamber of Commerce has published brochures and encourages visitors to come to the Chamber. The Chamber is now a full fledged member of the Lakeside Tourist Association which is affiliated with the provincial government for a centralized effort to bring visitors to this beautiful recreational paradise.

4. INDUSTRY

Towns are built on industry and service. The Chamber of Commerce has always kept this foremost on its agenda and investigated all possible avenues. The St. Paul Chamber of Commerce has a member on the Alberta Industrial Board to keep abreast with developments and help promote the cause of the town.

5. RECREATION

Recreation plays an important part in the social life of a community. With this in mind, the Chamber of Commerce was instrumental in laying the ground work to build the Centennial Ballroom which is being enjoyed by thousands of people throughout the year. The Chamber has answered many requests to help out in the recreation field and has given its active and financial support on many instances.

6. EDUCATIONAL FIELD

One of the most important fields in the development of a community is education for its growing population. The St. Paul Chamber of Commerce has an educational committee which keeps in close touch with developments in the field of education. The Chamber is constantly putting pressure on the organization of the proposed committee school for the town and district, using its influence and giving help whenever needed.

7. AGRICULTURAL PROGRAM

The St. Paul Chamber of Commerce recognizes that this town is dependent on agriculture and as such has an agricultural committee working on issues with the farmers to help promote their cause whenever possible. The Chamber invites farmers in this district to join in an effort to solve mutual problems to greater satisfaction.

8. CONCLUSION

These are only a few of the most important projects the Chamber dealt with. But it also handles many minor problems, at its weekly meetings every Monday, held in the Co-op cafeteria.

Who Sings Of Entertainment

The North American Alliance of Music and Songwriters has received the amount of $1,000 for the current year. The money is to be used for the promotion of the arts and the development of the music industry in Canada.

Land Values Have All Increased

Land values in the St. Paul area have increased by an average of 10 per cent in the last year. This is due to a variety of factors, including the increase in the price of land and the increase in the demand for land.

Consent Breath Of Spring

The weather has improved and the spring has arrived. The temperature has risen and the snow has melted. This is a good sign for the spring and the summer.

Flowers Of Hope

The flowers are in bloom and the hope is in the air. The spring has brought with it a new sense of hope and a new sense of optimism.

Appointed As Chairman

A committee has been appointed to study the problem of the land use by-law. The committee will be made up of representatives from the various departments and the public. The committee will be asked to report back to Council in the near future.

HERE'S EASY CONTROL OF INSECTS THAT PESTER CATTLE!

The Automatic "Sandhills" APRON OILER

The insect problem in your herd is solved with this cattle oiler. Pest-killing insecticides are worked into hard-to-get-at areas around the head, ears, horns, neck, back and sides.

Operations of the Sandhills Apron Oiler is completely automatic—does all the work for you! As cattle pass under the apron, valves at either end of the cylinder permit a regulated amount of oil to saturate the apron.

The Sandhills has no moving parts to wear out... no cables to break. It works on the "no resistance" principle. Cattle can't knock it down... can't tear it off. Years of trouble-free service!

Road Maintenance Lugging

A rattlesnake came in to find us last week on the condition of the roads and streets in the Town of St. Paul. We can't usually get prodded unless there is a good reason, and in this case we feel that the rattlesnake is justified in his complaint.

The current spring has not been down on an extreme one, but very little maintenance is being done on the roads. Many of the streets close to the business section and in the residential areas have suffered from potholes, become spongy and rough, without having had any repair or maintenance work done.

There are some roads, especially in the north area around the elevators that are almost impassable for cars, having been deep-rutted worse than any country side road.

Road maintenance is expensive we will be told, there hasn't been time to get everything done in the spring rush of work, factors we are all aware of and understand. In spite of all this, we feel a greater effort should be made to keep the streets and roads in better shape. The main street and roads should be swept more often and some control exercises over the amount of paper strewn on the sidewalks to blow away in the breeze.

The boulevard landscaping program is getting close and it is hoped that it will be a help to the town for beautification in this respect.

Big Time For St. Paul

We have received official word from Mr. Peter Akyard, Director of Public Relations and Information Branch of the Centennial Commission, that members of the National Conference on the Centennial Confederation will be visiting "our city" on June 14th, enroute home from a meeting to be held in Victoria.

This honor and distinction has come to St. Paul through the efforts of Mr. John Fisher, Centennial Commissioner for Canada who has been so impressed with St. Paul's performance that he has insisted that the people come here to prove to them what St. Paul is doing in the field of Centennial promotion.

This is no ordinary visit to the Chamber of Commerce through its Centennial Committee, but rather on a program for the reception which will take place. The party is expected to fly in from RCAF Station Cold Lake about 11:00 a.m. on the 14th. They will be here for two or three hours and given illustrations on what St. Paul is doing. The promoters will have a good program which we are certain will serve the purpose. What is needed is people, and we hope that every business man in this town, every community leader and every citizen will turn out en masse to proudly maintain our claims to Centennial leadership and leave a good impression of our fair and progressive town to visitors who are leaders and important men in the affairs of Canada.

Time To Curb Unions

Militant rank-and-file union members are clearly pushing their leaders to deliver major gains this year. Wage demands have all been jacked up more sharply than usual. With competent workmen hard to find, some bidding out could be expected, but many of the proposals have been stunning.

Unions are beginning to insist they have a say, through bargaining, in how employers introduce technological change. All this primes labor relations for an explosion over management rights and technology. The fuse is already spluttering in this year's widespread strikes. In the first four months, Canada lost 56,000 more man-days than in the same 1965 period. This is admittedly a low proportion of all time worked — but the trouble has occurred and will probably recur in the industries crucial to national prosperity.

The time has come when governments should take a closer look at unions and perhaps exercise more control over them. They are threatening to ruin the economy of countries. There was a time when employees were necessary to protect the rights of employers, but the pendulum has swung the other way and the time has come for some sort of protection for management which finds itself at the breaking point, forced to raise the cost of its products which may eventually price the country out of the world markets.

Nursing Home Offers Comfort To St. Paul District Patients

Calvin Blunt, the Provincial Minister of Health, today announced that the new Blunt's Nursing Home in St. Paul, Alberta, is now open to the public. The home is a two-story building with 100 beds, and is the first of its kind in the province. It is a modern, comfortable, and well-equipped facility, and is expected to provide a high standard of care for its patients.

NC Delegates At Lethbridge

Members of the National Conference on the Centennial Confederation are in Lethbridge, Alberta, for a meeting. The conference is being held in the city of Lethbridge, and is expected to be a successful one. The delegates are expected to discuss various issues related to the centennial celebration, and to make recommendations to the Centennial Commission.

Noise of Seven Days

It is surprising that in the raging controversy over the rights and wrongs of the Seven Days firings, the main point has been missed by nearly everyone. The main point is that broadcasting is publishing, there will always be discomfort when an agency of government, in a democracy, enters the field on a mass scale.

Excitement was the basic ingredient that polarized the program. The young people who produced it and performed in it did so with a flair, slipping controversy with the gusto of gourmets tossing wine, if not with the same dignity. They took chances, stepping on political toes and sensibilities with rapture and recklessness, almost daring themselves to stop them. Every now and then, however, they might deplore some of the content of the show, were fascinated.

It could not continue. Government agencies cannot persist in baiting the board that feeds them. When governments undertake publishing, it must be bland and innocuous. If Canada had independent broadcasting system, or private broadcasters with the will and fortitude to make their so-called independence real, programs such as Seven Days could thrive (if respectable).

Strangely enough, the very crusaders who rushed to the support of the Seven Days co-hosts have been most blind to these realities, and have been acting like dogs biting their own tail. Through their efforts the young performers may win an extended tenure, but they cannot long survive in a struggle with the powers that be. They are pursuing a dead end, and the only way out is to accept the fact that broadcasting is publishing, and that it is not in the public interest to have a government agency or agencies afford to finance in safety the actions of politicians.

Friends of the CBC, whether vociferous or quiet, should remember that an over-extension of freedom is a threat to broadcasting. Only two or three generations ago, there was an important group, almost a cult, who thought that attending the theatre and playing cards were vital and to be forbidden. The CBC people who become too smart should beware.

Beware Phone Insurance

An Alberta farmer has learned the hard way that insurance transactions should not be conducted exclusively by telephone.

Wanting to place fire insurance on a $22,000 tractor, he telephoned his insurance brokerage firm, was told the tractor would be added to an existing policy. The tractor later suffered $2,332 worth of damage in a fire, and the farmer discovered it had not been added to his policy after all.

He sued the broker but the action was dismissed. The Alberta Supreme Court said both the broker and the client has acted in "a very casual way" and that such deals should be followed up in writing. Insurance men say if there isn't time to get the actual insurance policy, or policy endorsement, in our hands before the insurance is required, the best thing to do is insist that your agent (or insurance company if you are dealing direct) send written confirmation of coverage, including the name of the insurance company carrying the risk.

Where Business is Needed

Sales gains this year, many of them substantial and widely distributed throughout all of Canada industry. Another big nothing up in sales next year. Further expansion of new plant facilities and additions to equipment to meet insistent rising demands of business and consumers. That is the very bright prospect presented now by The Financial Post's exclusive semi-annual survey of the Canada's leading executives and managers of their own companies. It provides compelling evidence that heightened activity of the vast majority of companies will keep Canada's record-long boom rolling right through conventional years. Two disturbing trends, The Financial Post points out, lurk under the sunny surface of success in sales. Costs of materials are moving up in far more firms than usual. Despite the current surge in sales, after-tax profit gains in the first half were below earlier expectations.

If you're a Canadian citizen between 17 and 35, have at least a high school education, are single, and meet the minimum physical requirements, we've got a real future for you. A future that includes the respect of the world for Canada's Standing Armed Force. A future based on responsibility. A responsibility you select. Leadership, self-reliance and confidence are stressed in all training as well as in the office. For example, you can choose the life of the shipboard officer or a career as a fighting leader in one of Canada's proud regiments or corps. The aircrew officer's selection is another thrilling opportunity. You'll fly jets, transporters or multi-engine turboprop aircraft.

In each case, the careers are dynamic and most filled with challenge, opportunity and satisfaction.

Damages Busy

Senators examining the problem of the aging took $105 a month (the present old age security payment is $75) as the minimum acceptable income for anyone who is self-sufficient. Health & Welfare Minister MacEachern seems to have adopted this figure as his own. The Financial Post says, in a frustratingly cloudy statement, he committed the government to ensuring that old age pensioners would receive that $105. But what does this mean? The Financial Post asks. Does it mean, for instance, that the person who has saved some money for his old age will receive less than $105 from the government? Or does it mean, as some government officials appear to believe, that this $105 figure is the guaranteed minimum from the state with no means test? In other words, would no one receive less than $105 a month under the various pension and assistance programs? Some arrangements which will not penalize the thrifty will undoubtedly have to be worked out. Finance Minister Sharp has reminded his colleagues that any increases will have to be paid for, and that means increased taxes. There will be no pretence that the public can get something for nothing, if his views prevail. By October MacEachern and his colleagues should be ready with specific proposals. They must also show where the money is coming from, if his views prevail. The economy needs careful management, The Financial Post comments not plundering to win votes.

Short Or Long Hair

What has the length of a student's hair got to do with his achievement? When school principals send boys home to get their long hair cut, parents should reply by sending the lad back with a picture of Albert Einstein.

There seems to be an unfortunate fallacy in reasoning which relates long hair to low grades! The lad's failure in school, The Post has heard, is not cut hair and his grades will go up! Is that the way reasoning processes work?

To make him cut his hair will no more strengthen his mental ability than it will strengthen a chin line to shave a beard. The one thing it will do, however, is to emphasize false values. The teacher may be implying that it is ill right to fail as long as your hair is short; you must conform to outward rules and regulations no matter how you feel inside.

Is this helpful to the education system? Who will not be better for educators to look at the boy who may be covering up his personality problems by growing long hair and seek to help the underlying cause?

So many wild generalities are being tossed around in the field of education that one begins to wish that the old story of the unwashed lad being sent home by a teacher "because he has an offensive odor" might be revived. The boy returned to school with a note from his mother: "Johnnie didn't no more. Teach him. Don't smell him."

Forest Fire Prevention

Every year thousands of dollars worth of valuable timber is destroyed by forest fires. Sometimes these fires are a result of natural causes but more often they result from the carelessness of persons not impressed by the danger of dry summer weather in heavily forested areas.

Cigarettes, matches, and campfires are, of course, the prime activators of forest fires. A cigarette or match landing in a clump of leaves or dry pine needles will soon burst into flame which spreads at an alarming rate in a forest dried by the summer's sun. Likewise, campfires which are not laid on a wide patch of cleared land or which are not properly extinguished after use, will quickly cause the dreaded forest fire.

Cigarette butts should be squashed in the earth, not in leafy ground. Better still, they should be extinguished in some water. The same precautions should be taken with matches which, for extra protection, may be broken in two after they are put out. In addition, campfires should be drenched with buckets of water, then covered with earth.

PIONEER PERSONALITIES

of Alberta

BOCCO and the ST. PAUL JOURNAL

During the past few years the St. Paul Journal has been publishing a series of articles on the lives of some of the pioneer personalities of Alberta. These articles have been so popular that the Journal has decided to publish a book of these articles. The book is now being prepared and will be published in the near future.

It is a pleasure to have the St. Paul Journal's interest in the lives of these pioneer personalities. The book will be a valuable addition to the library of any one interested in the history of Alberta.

RAIL RIDERS

Reders are a well-trained equine group whose recent travels Lake Superior was impressive and fun to visit in Iron. Francois K.

One of the results of superior, value stream control and the process which the Reders have been able to establish in the last year is that they are now able to produce enough crop to be sold in the market. Because of the large amount of crop, the Reders are now able to sell their crop at a price of $1.50 per acre, which is a significant increase from the $1.00 per acre they were able to sell last year.

The Reders are now able to produce more than 100,000 bushels of grain per year, which is a significant increase from the 50,000 bushels they were able to produce last year. This is a result of the Reders' superior value stream control and the process which they have been able to establish in the last year.

Each year, Canadian officials estimate that more than 500,000 bushels of grain are sold.

Union Power And Human Rights

Excessive demands of organized labor and the lawless violence with which it attempts to enforce such demands are a logical development of the latitude which democratic governments have allowed labor unions in the past. It is the duty of government to protect the basic rights of citizens from infringement by anybody. One of those basic rights is the right of every man to join a union or to refuse to join a union.

It is just as serious a violation of a citizen's rights to coerce him into joining a union as it is to prevent him from doing so. Whether a citizen joins a union or not is not the business of government; but if he is being coerced into doing either, it becomes very much government business, for it is government's duty to prevent all such coercion.

Both federal and provincial governments have consistently failed to protect citizen's rights in this respect. Laws intended to protect freedom of choice actually deprive the individual citizen of all choice in the matter and compel him to join a union of other people's choosing. Departments of labor seem to think that their duty to build up the strength of the unions; and government indifference towards union lawlessness is largely responsible for the growing violence in labor disputes today.

By allowing closed shops, in which only members of accredited unions may be employed, and to governments force thousands of countless citizens to join certain unions, as the only means by which they can hold their jobs. By allowing the check-off of union dues, which compels employers to deduct union dues from the workers wages and pay them over to the union bosses, and by allowing the use of union members of all power to discipline the union bosses and make them act as responsible representatives of the membership.

By such practices as these, workers are being reduced to the level of mere pawns in the hands of irresponsible union bosses who rule them with an iron hand and against whose orders they have no appeal. This concentration of power is building up a union monopoly of the right to work for a living in Canada. Unless something is done to check the growing power of irresponsible union officials, the country is likely to find itself right back in the dark ages, when all industries were dominated by guilds which allowed none but their own members to engage in their occupations, and when those not belonging to any guild had no civic rights which anybody would be bound to respect.

No country should allow to arise any power strong enough to oppress the people or to defy the courts, and it is the duty of governments to see that no such power ever arise. Union power in Canada today is approaching that point. How can that power be curbed without destroying the unions completely, as Hitler did in Germany?

The secret of the excessive power of unions in Canada today lies in the control which compulsory union membership and the check-off of union dues give union bosses over workers. Both are flagrant violations of the individual citizen's basic rights, his right to join or not to join the union and his right to collect his full wages when he has earned them. The possession of this power enables union bosses to decide who may and who may not be allowed to work for a living in Canada and to tape those who are allowed to work for the privilege of doing so. This is too much power to be in the hands of any man or any union. Yet it is being wielded by the union bosses in Canada and under the noses of the governments whose duty it is to suppress it.

If these basic rights were restored to the workers and properly respected by the governments, and the payment of union dues would become purely voluntary, and not a necessary condition to the right to work at a job.

If basic rights are not restored, union leaders will become more powerful than are prime ministers, provincial premiers, ministers of labor, and even all other members of bodies elected by all the people, antagonists of as well as blind believers in unionism.

Head, 3 Injured In Head On Collision With St. Paul

A head-on collision between a St. Paul car and a truck on Highway 21 near the intersection of Highway 21 and Highway 21 resulted in the death of a St. Paul man and three injuries.

The accident occurred on Tuesday evening at approximately 7:30 p.m.

The dead youth was riding in a half-ton International truck westward on Highway 21, and his brother, Elmer Henderson, 23, was in the driver's seat.

The truck was travelling at 40 miles per hour when it collided with a St. Paul car travelling eastward on Highway 21.

The St. Paul car was driven by a 21-year-old youth who was killed instantly.

The other two youth were injured and are in the St. Paul hospital.

AND NEW WATER RESOURCES IN FISH IN LAKE.

The New Hawaii
By Peter Griffin

THE BLACK SMOKE, wild geese and humpback whales of the Hawaiian Islands drew thousands of visitors to the island of Hawaii, the largest of the "Wind of Paradise," describes the islands as they once were. Today, the islands stand the test and the new Hawaii makes a complete contrast to the beauty and the constant love of the sea.

THE HIGHEST ATTRACTIONS to the important feature of the Kaitake Pillar Hotel in Hawaii are three stout porpoises who were caught offshore on the island of Oahu. They were swimming in the lagoon with the children and have to leave their families suddenly to come to the hotel.

HIGHLIGHTS of the day are listed below for the protection. Each newspaper sets 10 percent of annual sales as money to help build the schools from their funds. They also have "scientific tests," guaranteeing the safety of the water in their tanks to water to put up a building costing $100,000.

POWERED LIKE A PORTABLE

A black and white photograph of a vintage Newcomb typewriter. The typewriter is a combination model, featuring a large, heavy-duty frame and a keyboard with dark keys. It is positioned in the lower half of the frame. Behind the typewriter is a large, dark circular logo. The words "NEW COMBINATION" are written in a bold, sans-serif font along the top arc of the circle. Below this, the text "BUILT LIKE AN OFFICE TYPEWRITER" and "POWERED LIKE A PORTABLE" is written in a similar font, stacked vertically. The overall image has a classic, mid-20th-century aesthetic.

It seems that the gate broke down between Huxton and Hall. As Peter appeared at the top of the part of the gate called the Devil's Eye Station, a voice came to him. It said: "Sorry," replied the host of the land beyond the Eye. My men are too busy to worry about fixing a more gate.

"Well, then," growled Peter. I'll leave you to be breaking our agreements."

"Oh, yeah," said the Devil. Where are you going to get a lawyer?"

Flying Saucer Pad

The following editorial and the cartoon on this page were taken from the Calgary Herald of September 26th giving a vivid description and a somewhat original and witty one of the Flying Saucer Launch Pad sponsored by Car-Duells Construction. The publicity is interesting and it is gratifying to see contemporary papers recognizing St. Paul's contribution to centennial promotion. — Ed.

One of the most imaginative, certainly the most delightful, of Centennial projects which has come to our attention is the flying saucer landing pad which is to be built in the town of St. Paul, northeast of Edmonton.

Like the weather, flying saucers have come in for a great deal of talk in recent years but no one has ever done anything about them. Now someone is taking action and whenever it is shown he is applauded.

Perhaps the reason for hesitancy on the part of pilots of flying saucers to land their craft on earth has been uncertainty over whether they would be welcome. Nothing could be better designed to convince them that we earthlings would love to commune with them than building a welcome mat for them in the form of a saucer landing pad.

It is fitting that the initiative for this project has been taken in this province, notable for its Western hospitality. We may feel a little chagrined to think that someone in Calgary didn't think of it first, since Calgary is recognized as the focal point of Western hospitality. But we feel our hats to the building contractors of St. Paul anyway.

In addition to the main pad for saucers, we suggest a space should be left "provided market is not swamped" go only, so that all contingencies will be provided for.

Fire Prevention Campaign Why, Who, What

A reduction in the spiralling losses of property and life by fire is the goal of a new public education campaign against fire carelessness in Canada, a country with one of the world's worst loss rates. It is conducted by the Joint Committee of the Association of Canadian Fire Marshalls and Fire Commissioners and the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs, Inc. Primary objective: the promotion of Fire Prevention Week (in reality, every week) in support of safety drives and inspection programs. Directors and officers serve without compensation. The campaign is financed by grants and subsidies from public and private sources. The effort is endorsed by all levels of government, and generously assisted by editors, broadcasters and poster makers.

The Association of Canadian Fire Marshalls and Fire Commissioners comprises the Fire Marshalls and Fire Commissioners of the 10 provinces and the Northwest Territories as well as the Dominion Fire Commissioner, and the Fire Marshall of the Canadian Armed Forces. The strength of the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs Inc. is drawn from municipal and industrial Fire Chiefs from coast to coast.

With this impressive force of fire conscious people and organizations working every day of the year in an effort to cut down fire losses in Canada, it is no small reason why every citizen should understand the situation and do his bit for fire prevention during one week of the year reserved for it.

But it doesn't end there. The effort must be consistent on the part of everyone. Full co-operation should be offered and given to the local fire department who work at it consistently with the assistance of the auxiliary unit standing by with them when the need arises.

We urge you to take seriously the messages brought to you by fire conscious businesses of this town who have sponsored and promoted two pages of advertising and their important messages on the inside pages of this issue.

Take part in the fire prevention exercises and programs your local fire department is conducting next week, October 9th to 15th and learn what to do in an emergency, but what is more important, how to prevent a fire so that it can never start and you are never faced with its disastrous results.

See editorial: Flying Saucer (Oct. 1st, 1966)

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEMBERS VISIT TAR SANDS AT ATHABASCA

Lloyd Manning, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce in Athabasca, and one of his committee members, Ed Dwyer, last week toured a plant in Athabasca with delegates of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce to visit the Athabasca Oil Sands at Fort McMurray. The plant shows a bucket wheel excavator chewing at sands from the face of pit and loads it into waiting trucks. This is a small portion of the plant operations which are actually still under way and will not be completed in full scale operation. Long, high speed conveyor belts will carry the sand to the extraction plant. Synthetic crude will be produced at the rate of 45,000 barrels per day.

"Things sure have changed"

IT ALL STARTED back in 1903 in Alberta, when doctors and men like these were working to help on these long forgotten conditions. So, a new way of thinking was born. It was a new way of thinking that was born.

LATER ON as more people got the hang of using the phone, they began to decide they had something worth saying. All of which led to more and more, leading to still more phone innovations.

TODAY you can tell your friends in seconds... whether you're in St. Paul or Houston. There are now 22 million telephones in the world. 41 million in North America. There are 140 thousand in Alberta and more are being installed every day, each one a part of world wide communications. Things are being changed.

Trick Or Treat

A round orange moon shines down from a black October sky, lighting the way for witches on broomsticks. Small goblins walk the streets below with large bags of goodies that flap against their sides as they run up the steps to a neighborhood house shouting "Trick or Treat!"

This familiar scene means it's Halloween — a favorite time for youngsters who, on this one night, can dress up in fanciful costumes, crash shopping bags with the makings of an awfulummy cake and stay up long past their usual bedtime.

But too often the excited youngsters, their vision obscured by ill-fitting masks, dash out of the shadows and into the street.

There's a screech of brakes, a cry — and a pitiful jumble of candy and cookies stream across a limp limp form on the pavement.

The vision problem is something that you, as a parent, can do much to solve. All you need are a few ordinary cosmetics and a little imagination. Then you can supply your trick-or-treaters with pointed fangs and discard one of Halloween's greatest dangers — the face mask.

A painted face not only lets your child see, it's much more comfortable than a hot mask, too. And it's fun — children love being made up.

Take a look in the drawer of the dressing table for the basic ingredients: lipstick, rouge, powder, makeup, eye shadow and an eyebrow pencil — or buy inexpensive brands at a variety or drug store.

You may also find zinc oxide in your medicine chest and cornstarch in a kitchen cabinet.

Be sure you have a jar of cold cream on hand for the clean-up job. Just rub it over the entire face, then wipe cold cream and make-up off together with tissues. Cold cream works more effectively than soap and water.

Painted faces are easy to do and a delight to children. But above all, will have the satisfaction of knowing that your children are safer with the unobstructed vision they need to see and avoid danger.

New Life For Old Houses

Ottawa's proposed plan to extend NHA mortgage lending to older housing will have immediate approval from vast numbers of house-owners and would-be house buyers. The new program is designed to make it easier to get sizeable loans at reasonable rates through government-guaranteed new mortgages on older houses. This will help the thrifty who have paid off their loans to find buyers. And it will enable more people to buy old homes, bringing new life to older areas in urban centers. The effect on urban renewal can be incalculable. Still to be made clear, however, is the answer to one important question: what guarantee is there that NHA-type mortgage money will be available on a consistent basis?

NHA money has long been like a top which is turned on and off depending on whether the economy is at high or low ebb. This has the great merit of helping to moderate the excesses of both boom and recession. But must the construction industry and the home-owners always bear the brunt of the government's economic policymaking? Low interest rates and large loan limits are plenty of very little use for either new or used housing if no one will make loans on the terms prescribed. Certainly the opportunity is present for a thorough look, at the operation and objectives of government-insured mortgage lending.

The Changing Church

By W. H. McEwen
In early Canada the French, English and Scotch churches were the only ones in the land. In fact, a policy which was to be followed by the British government was to encourage the French and Scotch churches to remain in the land. This was done by giving them land and money. Alberta Affairs

By John Warren

There was a couple of interesting items in the news this week. The first was a report of the Alberta government's decision to increase the minimum wage for women to $1.00 per hour. This was a significant step in the fight for equal pay for equal work. The second item was a report of the Alberta government's decision to increase the minimum wage for men to $1.00 per hour. This was also a significant step in the fight for equal pay for equal work.

STRAW BURNERS 60 YEARS AGO

Sixty years ago this picture was taken in the town of Lethbridge, Alberta. It shows a large straw burner, a common sight in the town at that time. The burner was used to burn straw and other agricultural waste. The picture is a historical record of the town's early days and the importance of agriculture to its economy.

Centennial Report

1867-1947

In 1867, when the Dominion of Canada was created, the country was a vast, unpopulated wilderness. In the 1870s, the first settlers came to the country. They were mostly farmers and ranchers who came to the country in search of a better life. They found a land of opportunity and a chance to build a new life for themselves. The country was a land of promise and a land of hope.

Ophthalmic Care Not Included in Alberta's Health Plans

Alberta's health plans do not include ophthalmic care, a fact that has caused considerable concern among the province's eye care professionals. The health plans cover a wide range of medical services, but eye care is not included. This means that people who need eye care must pay for it out of their own pockets. This is a significant financial burden for many people, especially those who are on a fixed income. The health plans should be revised to include ophthalmic care, so that everyone who needs it can get it without having to pay for it.

Music Should Be Used More Extensively At Church Services

LONDON (CP)—Every time a church service is held, the music is often the most important part. Music is a powerful tool that can help to create a sense of worship and devotion. It can also help to bring people together and create a sense of community. Music should be used more extensively at church services, so that everyone who attends can experience the power of music and the joy of worship. Music is a gift from God, and it should be used to praise Him and to glorify His name.

Bigg Backs Diefenbaker

Lester B. Pearson

The number of members of the Conservative Party of Canada who are backing Diefenbaker for the leadership race is growing rapidly, according to a survey conducted by the party's own members. The survey, which was conducted by a group of party members, found that Diefenbaker has the support of a majority of the party's members. This is a significant development, as it shows that Diefenbaker is still a popular choice among party members, despite his recent defeat in the election.

It was reported at the Chamber of Commerce meeting this week that some entertainment promoters from out of town sold a number of advance tickets to a show, cancelled it at the last moment and walked out leaving a number of business men stuck with the tab.

The story is a bit too revealing that these promoters contacted business men in this town, interested in buying lots of tickets for residents of the Senior Citizens home, Blue Quills and other deserving groups.

If's a good sales pitch and the merchants and business men who are left holding the bag for $112 can be commended for their charitable feelings, but don't get very many good marks for common sense.

This is not the first time that this has happened. The promoters lack a reputable organization in sponsoring them, sign a loose contract without revealing the whole picture, then proceed to pull a fast one.

This has happened too often for anyone to feel sorry for those who have been clipped and once again should serve as lesson.

Before you make any deals with such promoters, check them out. Make them pay in advance for every ticket to hold them, and if there are any tickets to be sold the sponsoring organization should sell them to ensure the goodwill of the project. Anyone buying from strangers, paying in advance is sticking his neck out for trouble and usually gets it. There are too many worthwhile projects in this town which need support and can use the money that is being swindled out.

The time has come when stricter controls should be implemented for the soliciting of funds and no one allowed to canvass the town unless they have been approved or licensed by duly constituted authority.

This has become a plague and a nuisance on business men who are often intimidated into making donations which are not always justified.

It's not a question of trying to evade a duty, but the problem of giving where it does the most good.

National Disease

We are a sick people. It would seem so from the contemporary Canadian scene at large. Everywhere there is provincialism, division, and dissension.

We cry for sternership, and then make it impossible of achievement by constantly attacking the political leaders of both major parties. Whether they might be better by the way — their successors will face the same hatchet treatment. How can any parliamentary chief bring effective thought to bear on national problems if he has to spend half his time in fighting? How can a government or an opposition function effectively when it is full of prima donnas all aspiring to senior posts? Obviously every decision is coloured by the way — their successors will face the same hatchet treatment. Holidays January 26-27

With Christmas and New Years falling on a Sunday this year, there has been a bit of confusion on the matter of holidays.

In the Alberta Gazette of November 15th, the Provincial Secretary, Mr. A. Holowach, has proclaimed and declared that Monday, December 26th and Tuesday, December 27th will be observed as public holidays throughout the province.

January 2nd following New Years has not been proclaimed as a public holiday and the matter has been left to the discretion of each town.

Unofficially some merchants and business places in town have already declared they will probably close on the 2nd. They also have indicated that the stores of the holidays on December 26th and 27th, the spirit will remain closed the following Wednesday afternoon as well as the half day after New Years. The town is not legislating on this matter.

The St. Paul Journal is publishing the above for information and to avoid confusion.

It might be a good idea for the merchants and business men to make a declaration and announcement for their intentions for the convenience of the public and their customers.

Tree Or Torch

Canada's list of fire tragedies is enlarged each Christmas season by a frightening number of preventable fires. The National Fire Protection Association claims these disasters could be avoided by a simple set of precautions.

First, the League warns, a dry Christmas tree is an invitation to disaster. In fact, a tree that becomes dry enough, if exposed to flame, will explode. Make caution, NFA says, the tree is fresh when purchased, then stand it in water and keep the water replenished. Dispose of the tree as soon as possible after the holiday.

If the tree is metallic, take great care with decorations, particularly electrical ones, for a power leak could burn or kill anyone who touched the tree. The League advises using off-free floor or spot lighting instead of lights on a metal tree.

For all lights, warns the League, inspect the cords regularly and replace worn ones. New strings of lights should carry the Canadian Standards Association approval label. Turn lights off at night and when leaving the house even for a short time.

Precautions are easy. Recovering from the loss of a home or a member of the family through carelessness is all but impossible.

Ottawa Must Say No

The fight between Canada and the U.S. over the Mercantile Bank of Canada's future growth, is one battle in which Ottawa cannot afford to back down.

This country's capacity to control its own financial policy is basic to the running of a modern state. It will forever offer to be deeply affected by the decision finally made on this case.

The scrap erupted when the Canadian government introduced, in the regular Bank Act revision last year, a clause dealing with chartered banks controlled by foreign interests. Mercantile, wholly owned by First National City Bank, New York has cried foul, claimed the loss was retroactive changing the rules.

Canada's position is both clear and fair. Citi-bank officials were told in advance three years ago that Ottawa did not favor the bank purchase by Citi-bank and might introduce restrictive legislation if the takeover was made.

Permission to set up U.S. bank agencies here would be enough to meet the U.S. claim that what they do for us in their country we must do for them in our country. But permission to allow unlimited expansion by Mercantile would be an open invitation to demands for a host of other foreign-owned banks and eventual loss of control in the most crucial area of Canadian economic activity.

Alberta Affairs

By John Warren

The Farmers' Union of Alberta, the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, and the Alberta Farmers' Union have been successful in their efforts to get the government to agree to a new program of agricultural insurance.

The government announced that it will provide a new program of agricultural insurance for the province of Alberta. This program will cover the cost of crop losses due to drought, flood, and other natural disasters.

The program will be administered by the Alberta Farmers' Union. The government will provide the majority of the funding for the program. The Farmers' Union will provide the administrative services.

The program will be a significant step forward for the province's farmers. It will provide them with the financial security they need to weather the uncertainties of the agricultural market.

The program will also provide a valuable service to the province's taxpayers. By insuring the province's farmers, the government will be able to provide them with the financial resources they need to continue to produce food for the province.

Christmas Joy

Mumble shepherds left their flocks in the fields that holy night, and sought the Babe whose birth angels had proclaimed unto them. They beheld him lying in a manger in the City of David, wrapped in swaddling clothes.

And from the East, following the brilliant Star, Wise Men came to adore, and to offer precious gifts to the newborn King.

Today, nations and peoples share in that first Christmas, in its boundless hope and its promise of peace, with joyous celebrations. May you and your loved ones keep the spirit of this holy season always in your hearts, perpetuating its strength and comfort.

JOYEUX NOEL
Le Père Noël est ici! Son sac est débordant d'années de rite et de joie... des cadeaux d'heures heureuses... des cadeaux d'amitié et de bonne volonté. Nous voudrions ajouter nos plus chaleureux mercis, à vous nos estimés clients, pour votre bienveillant patronage. Du bon vieux St. Nicolas et de nous, Joyeux Noël.

Merry Christmas

They shake sparkling eyes, happy voices... children in anticipation of everything that Christmas brings: the family tree, stunts of presents, bells ringing out sweet carols, stockings filled with goodies, Santa Claus... and the intimacy of each day's creche. Watching the delight, the awe, the wonder in a child's face is knowing the Spirit of Christmas.

To all, our sincere greetings of the season plus our gratitude and thanks:

This Christmastide, may the peace and contentment that comes with love, understanding and good will towards our fellowmen prevail throughout the world. And for you and yours especially, may the meaning of Christmas be deeper, its hopes brighter than ever before.

En ce temps de Noël, puisse la paix et le contentement qui découlent de l'amour, de la bonne volonté, et de l'entente envers nos concitoyens prédominer à travers l'univers. Et pour vous et les vôtres spécialement, que le sens de Noël devienne plus profond, ses espoirs plus brillants que jamais.

Now a new, kitchen-tested recipe makes it possible for you to serve it in your home. Just combine eggs, evaporated milk, sugar and beverages in a blender. The evaporated milk makes the custard extra smooth.

To make the caramel sauce, brown the sugar right in the baking pan. The Caramel Sauce is poured over the top. When the dessert is baked and topped out onto a dish, it's glorious with a glistening caramel glaze.

For an added touch sprinkle shaved almonds over the top just before serving.

Retarded Children Christmas Program Shows Accomplishment

What can be accomplished by retarded children in a Christmas program? The answer was shown in the program given by the St. Paul Retarded Children's Association.

Under the tuition of their teachers, Mrs. Armand Bouchard and Mrs. Jean Gaudet, the children sang Christmas songs, recited, and played games. The program was supervised by Mrs. J. H. Gaudet.

The program was a success in every way, and the children showed their accomplishment in a most pleasing manner.

John Fisher Phones From Capital City

"When St. Paul celebrates New Year's its usually a joyous event, but on the occasion of the centennial of Canada's Centennial Year, this town did it in gay style and with enthusiasm never displayed before anywhere else in Canada."

These were the words of CBC commentator Doug McIlwain who broadcast the special ceremonies live over the breadth of the country.

Minor Hockey Week

Minor Hockey Week starts Saturday, and minor hockey enthusiasts all across Canada will be drawing attention to what minor hockey can do, and does, for boys.

In this area it's the important part of winter life for hundreds of boys and the arenas of the district are kept busy with young players being guided and taught by men and youths who give of their time because they have a love for hockey and for working with boys.

Their work is no "soft touch". There is a lot to do, and a lot to be done, and rarely, if ever, are their enough volunteers to fill all the management, coaching, time-keeping and refereeing positions there are to be filled if all the boys who want to play are to be accommodated.

Minor hockey costs money, too. There is ice time to be paid for, sweaters and equipment to be supplied, as well as all the little expenses that add up to such a large total. Service clubs and sponsors help out, but much is left for parents, and much is left for the volunteers to get out and raise as best they can. For this too, they deserve our support and commendation. This is the week, "Minor Hockey Week," when we salute them.

It would be discriminatory to mention individuals and we leave that for others. However, it is good to mention that minor hockey in St. Paul is very well encouraged by local business who supply plaques and trophies so that the young players can be encouraged in their progress.

To make minor hockey function all across this great nation (and it is) takes the help of a national governing body, an active provincial organization (that we have in the various regional hockey associations) and energetic local groups. We are fortunate to have these, too. But most of all, it takes boys. Boys are the life blood of the game, as they are of the nation, and we are pleased that through the efforts of the various organizations about 250,000 Canadian boys are being given an opportunity to play properly supervised, well organized hockey. Truly, hockey is Canada's national sport and more boys take part in this healthful, vigorous activity than in any other game.

So we suggest that each one of us take time to visit the arena during Minor Hockey Week. By doing so we will be paying our tribute to the men who make it all possible. While we're at it, let's hope that minor hockey continues to flourish and earn its influence for good on more and more local youngsters. Maybe, one of these years, one or more of our own youngsters, graduates of our minor hockey set-up, may be given the opportunity to represent not only this community, but Canada, by winning a place on a National Team.

Before They Begin

A local newspaper serving so well an area for one of the largest cities in Canada has representatives of the Unemployment Insurance Commission appeared in the local school to instruct the pupils, grade nine and up, on their rights under the Unemployment Insurance Act.

The local reporter says that the people who came to instruct or guide these pupils were quite naturally welcomed by the pupils. During the course of the presentation, which included questions and answers, the regular studies of the classes were abandoned, always popular, and pupils who were expecting to get out into the working world in the not distant future were very glad to learn that they didn't have to work so long as they established through unemployment insurance the means to live without working.

This suggests that the government at Ottawa is spending a good deal of money unnecessarily to keep the almost-to-become workers unemployed. They will learn soon enough. It seems incredible that it would require four officials sponsored by the Ottawa government to do what one official could do, if it were deemed necessary. It wasn't necessary.

IT'S MINOR HOCKEY WEEK starts Jan. 21st.

Don't send, take your boy to the arena!

The St. Paul Journal requires identification for publication. This is to ensure that the information is accurate and reliable.

Flowers Of Hope Campaign

ARDA Offers Help To Those Who Want To Help Themselves

The Alberta Rural Development Association (ARDA) offers help to those who want to help themselves. The association provides information and resources for rural development.

Weekly Weather Report

The St. Paul Journal provides a weekly weather report. The report includes information on the current weather and the forecast for the week.

Worth The Money

The St. Paul Chamber of Commerce has set a new schedule of fees at its first executive meeting, since election and appointment of new directors. There has been a slight increase in the structure of the assessment to meet the demands which have been made on the Chamber of Commerce in the past year and to meet its budget.

There is no doubt that the Chamber is one of the most important organizations in the town. Its main object is to promote the welfare of every business and by doing so raises the standard of living for everyone from employer to employee.

Those of you who have followed the activities of the Chamber in the past year will readily admit that it has been very active and successful in promoting the best interest of the town and its citizens.

The publicity it has stimulated through its campaign promotions has made St. Paul nationally famous without a doubt. All you have to do is visit cities, from the west coast to the east and on to the east of your address, will be first congratulated and then questioned on how and why St. Paul is so active. This kind of publicity cannot be bought with dollars. Ask any public relations officer what it is worth. Although he won't be able to assess it completely he will talk about hundreds of thousands of dollars.

As a newspaper we have followed the activities of the Chamber, locally and abroad and without reservations urge you to support it first with your attention and secondly, if you cannot be too active, at least with the financial support it needs to administer its affairs.

In the next week you will be approached by the membership committee for your fees. We hope that they will accept them without fuss and give your wholehearted co-operation to the canvassers.

The schedule is as follows:
 Individuals (not in business) $5.00
 Business, 1 to 3 (including employee) $30.00
 4 to 10 $40.00
 11 to 20 $50.00
 Professionals, each $20.00

A community can only progress as far as the efforts of its business people will take it. St. Paul has gone a long way and will continue to do so with your support.

Charities tell all

Thousands of Canadian charities are applying to the Department of National Revenue this year, for, in effect, a renewed lease on life. Although certain to spark some grumbling about more red tape, the effort cannot fail to produce some long term gains for the 40,000 charities involved and for the people they are trying to help.

In place of a past system of loose rules, patchy knowledge and negligible policing, every charitable organization must now register with National Revenue, use a prescribed number when issuing tax deduction receipts for donations, and report to the government, beginning in 1968, on what was collected and spent in the last year.

Besides weeding out the few dishonest charities and those which honestly believe themselves to be legal charities but do not qualify, officials think the new regulations will give rise to a much healthier climate for all charities and an improved confidence in them by all Canadians.

One beneficial byproduct already, according to a Canadian Welfare Council official, is that many small and local charitable funds are now re-examining their own internal organization, their bylaws, their operations and their bookkeeping methods.

This has been forced on them by the government requirements, but the effect is likely to improve their own standards and practices.

With more than $325 million claimed in charitable tax deductions, the time has long passed when Ottawa can afford a devil-may-care attitude about how the money goes. And gives are likely to give more if they can be confident their money is being well spent.

WORKING IN THE DEAD OF NIGHT TO CLEAR SNOW

We are not always too satisfied with the snow clearing program in St. Paul and many complaints are registered with the Journal. However, the Town crews are doing their best, so it seems, judging from this picture taken by Beece, snow clearing work is being done in the early morning hours of the day.

Ukrainian Christmas Celebrated By The Old Julian Calendar

NATIVITY SCENE IN BELLIS

One of the most beautiful Christmas lightings in the city was the Christmas Nativity scene in Bellis. The scene was set up in the St. Paul Sports Centre and was a sight to behold.

Lay Apostolate In The Church

The concept of the lay apostolate is a relatively new one in the church. It is the concept of laymen and women participating in the church's mission in the world. This concept is based on the belief that all Christians are called to be apostles, to witness to the Gospel in their own lives and in their relationships with others.

The lay apostolate is not a new concept, but it is a concept that has been given new emphasis in the modern church. It is a concept that recognizes the importance of the laity in the church's mission and the need for them to be trained and equipped for their role.

Got today's brand of action at a downright practical price!
Go Pontiac.

Go Pontiac and get with the car that's got so much going for it... From its powerful performance to its practical price. And overall, pure value. There are some people who don't realize that a Pontiac can be purchased in the same price range as the lowest-priced full-size cars. As any mistake to make when you consider Pontiac, certainly doesn't look like a low-price car. And certainly not a look like a low-priced car. No corners are cut when it comes to Pontiac quality. And that's where you'll find it in... In Pontiac's cars and accessories. And that's where you'll find it in... In Pontiac's cars and accessories. And that's where you'll find it in... In Pontiac's cars and accessories.

S.D. 2228 Has $405.00 Deficit Government Payments Too Slow

Government payments to the school district are too slow to keep the district from running into a deficit, according to a report from the school board.

The report, which was prepared by the school board's finance committee, states that the district has a deficit of $405.00 for the year ending March 31, 1967.

The deficit is attributed to the slow payment of government grants to the district. The report states that the district has received only 75 per cent of the grants to which it is entitled.

The school board is urging the government to speed up its payments to the district to avoid a larger deficit in the future.

"It Costs You No More or The Best In Reception"

Some insist on Lethbridge Pilsner, several fine brews deftly blended in the Bavarian tradition. The best of barley, choice rice and our own homegrown hops give it the lively taste that appeals to Albertans. The unique label tells you it's Alberta's original Pilsner.

NO HARD FEELINGS FROM ST. PAUL

Although the St. Paul residents lost to Pampa Sunday, in the provincial Easter playoffs, there were no hard feelings on the part of the citizens. And to prove it, Harry Jones and Vernon and Charles were invited to a supper in south of the visiting party by their congregations.

Prescription Education Revolution

A prescription for rebellion and revolutionizing the method of early childhood education at a stage where children are much more perceptive than the way Dr. W. H. Worth described his address of "Revolutions in the Education of Young Children," delivered to over 200 teachers at a meeting in St. Paul, Wednesday evening.

The opening speaker after the banquet, held in the cafeteria was Dr. A. Kristiansen, President of the Early Childhood Council of the ATA, who was introduced by chairman Nick Chumchick.

Dr. Kristiansen went on to explain that the early childhood council was a special council for the early childhood education of the ATA, and that the purpose of the council was to bring about a revolution in the education of young children. He stated that the council was not a revolutionary school but a revolutionary way of thinking about the education of young children. Bookkeeping Complex Procedure States Agriculture Supervisor

Many prospective bookkeepers are intimidated by the complex nature of the job, says a supervisor of agriculture in the province of Alberta. He says that the job is not as simple as it seems, and that it requires a high level of accuracy and attention to detail. He also notes that the job is often overlooked, but it is a crucial part of any business operation.

The only solution is to hire a professional bookkeeper, says the supervisor. He adds that a professional bookkeeper will be able to handle all of the complex procedures involved in bookkeeping, and will be able to provide accurate and timely financial information to the business owner.

Hotest Thing in Our Universe

The hottest thing in our universe is a period of time of light 100 years in length, says a scientist. He says that this period of time is the most intense and energetic period in the history of the universe, and that it is the only time when the universe was as hot as it is now.

Many millions of dollars have been spent on research to determine the exact nature of this period of time, says the scientist. He adds that the research has shown that the universe was indeed as hot as it is now, and that it was the only time when the universe was as hot as it is now.

The 1966 season was a record for the F.U.A. in Canada and in other countries. A record report shows that farm machinery companies were making record profits running from 10 to 15 per cent on all units for the first 10 months of 1966. In the U.S. case after 10 months of 1966, the profit margin was 10 to 15 per cent on all units. In the U.S. case after 10 months of 1966, the profit margin was 10 to 15 per cent on all units.

The various pricing practices in major parts would suggest that this business has become one of the highest, profitable ones in recent years. As for example, a number of the companies was around in 1966 as in 1965, but in 1966 it was sold for 10 per cent more.

Horticultural Club Planning Summer Projects; Win Mon

The regular meeting of the St. Paul Garden Horticultural Club was held at the home of Mrs. Maurine Mulligan on April 23.

At this meeting Mrs. Thompson presented a paper on "The Garden in the Home."

Three-year members are being favored to receive a certificate of appreciation.

It was decided that the continental project would be the "Garden in the Home" and that the winner of this summer project would be the one who has the most beautiful garden in the home.

Long waiting lines finally prevailed in the cemetery and the farmers are heavily engaged on the road going ready for setting as soon as possible. In the foreground, the police and the cemetery staff are busy. In the background, the cemetery is filled with people. The scene is a somber one, with many people standing in lines, waiting for their loved ones to be buried. The farmers in the background are working on the road, likely to facilitate the movement of the funeral procession.

Grants for Paving
 We were pleased, along with the other taxpayers and citizens of this town to hear of the new set up in provincial grant assistance for paving small town streets which has been recently announced in political campaigns.

Small towns need paving desperately, but the cost of most programs is almost out of reach and it takes years to work up progressively to good paving budgets.

In the town of St. Paul, like many others in this area, we have been fortunate that our main streets were part of a provincial highway, paved by the Alberta Government.

But when it comes to the side streets, experiments have been made in various methods which have been proven to be from adequate and described as a waste of money in the long run.

There are 11 of them in a group, standing in a line, looking at the camera. They are all men, of various ages, and they are all wearing dark clothing. They are standing in front of a building, which appears to be a school or a government building. The men are looking at the camera with serious expressions.

Most are rednecks, for members who have retired or decided for professional or other reasons to leave the group. The group is known as the "Secrets Breaking In New Men" and is a controversial organization. The group has been accused of various crimes, including harassment and intimidation. RAIN FAILS TO STOP OPENING CEREMONIES ON THE PAD

While dignitaries battled against the rain and some of the spectators got protective covering over the pad, the opening ceremonies got on at the entrance of the recreation grounds. On the left we see the High Prairie Satellite, there is for the occasion by the Chamber of Commerce. Right, an air force helicopter which dropped him, Paul Hefner, Minister of National Defence, for the ceremonies. All in all it was a wet day, but a successful one in the annals of the history of St. Paul.

Mars Visitors Land In Rain

Rain notwithstanding, there was a bit of activity around the St. Paul Landing Pad before its dedication. Saturday morning, crowds gathered and hovered above bringing in dignitaries, dropping flying saucers and waving a red flag. The dedication was a success, with a few exceptions. Savior From Town Of High Prairie

Complimentary Missiles

The landing pad in St. Paul has been officially opened and is now history. But the complimentary missiles on an aftermath of the celebrations are flying in fast and thick.

At the Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday, there were notes of appreciation from Hon. Paul Hellyer, Hon. John Diefenbaker, news media people and many mayors who had been attending both the opening of the landing pad and the Town Hall.

A special vote of thanks went to John Lagasse, Mr. St. Paul, insofar as Centennial activities are concerned. The success of the landing pad was an accolade to him as one of the highlights of Centennial promotions in St. Paul which has achieved publicity beyond expectation.

May the spirit that it has engendered locally and abroad in our country reign for the next 100 years.

Willful Damage

Last week in a letter to the editor, a high school student brought attention to some willful damage which had been imposed on a float from Quebec and the space craft brought to St. Paul by Grand Prairie.

We are very much in agreement with her statements, except the part where she lays the blame on the society for not providing entertainment for those who are guilty to keep them out of mischief.

Most of the damage done was by children under the age of 8 years who just happened to be attracted to these displays and decided to play with them when there was no supervision around. No matter if there had been ten ball games going on or any kind of entertainment this would still have happened.

The blame does not belong to the society or much as to the individuals, namely parents who do not supervise their children and let them wander around at will. The OTJ for instance provides all kinds of healthy and wholesome recreation for children, but very limited use is being made of it in the summer.

It is unfortunate that the Quebec float got the worst of it (hope the kids weren't taking a crack at the separatists) but frankly the people who brought it here should not have left it unattended in a public place where crowds of curious people, mostly kids, were around.

Nevertheless, it still is no real excuse and as a member of the community we accept some of the guilt with remembrance and resolve to perhaps take the means to prevent any such occurrence in the future.

You must understand that the organizers of the landing pad opening had more important things to do than police the people who should have been there by someone else. Can't think of everything all the time.

No Parallel Parking

The town council on a close decision voted to allow parallel parking in St. Paul, mostly on the basis that they are a farming town and it would be too difficult for these rural people to manoeuvre their vehicles in position. If we were a farmer, we wouldn't consider this too complimentary.

In spite of the fact that parallel parking might cut down the number of cars parking in a block, it would reduce greatly the number of small accidents in which bumper, front end and fenders are smashed backing up and expedite traffic to a greater degree.

Police records show unusually large number of these accidents, pointing out that the best way to eradicate the cause (angle parking) would be to legislate in favor of parallel parking.

As far as the parking situation is concerned in this town, the only way to restrict automobiles and employer parking on main street days, on and would be to introduce one or two hour parking. Once these people realize that there are liable to fines, it wouldn't take long before they would find some

The Joy Of Being An Editor

Getting out this newsletter is no picnic. If we print jokes, people say we are silly. If we don't they say we are too serious. If we stick close to the office all day, we ought to be around hustling material. If we go out and try to hustle material, we ought to be on the job at the office. If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate genius. If we print them, the paper is full of junk. If we edit the other fellows write up, we're too critical. If we don't, we're asleep. If we clip things from other magazines, we are too lazy to write them ourselves. But if we don't, we are stuck with our own stuff. Now, like as not, some guy will say, We twisted this from our magazine, We did.

Get Alcoholics Off Highways

The evidence is growing that the alcoholic is a special hazard on the highways, says Earl Dornade, editor of The Medical Post.

He quotes a study by Dr. Reginald G. Smart of the Alcoholism and Drug Addiction Research Foundation of Ontario revealing that 90 alcoholic clinic patients had twice as many traffic accidents as the general driving population.

Another study shows that out of 72 fatal auto accidents 40 per cent involved alcoholics. "These highway accidents, fatal or otherwise," Dr. Smart points out, "are caused by so-called social drinkers who take a few beers and then drive home. They are caused by hard-core alcoholics who have a long history of heavy drinking and whose blood alcohol readings are consistently over the accepted limit."

We are not going to see any lowering of traffic accidents and fatalities until tougher legislation is enacted to keep alcoholics from driving.

If provincial medical associations show leadership in helping to keep alcoholics off the highway, perhaps some such legislation might succeed.

We can lawfully prevent people with acute disorders and epilepsy from driving and these people constitute a minuscule hazard compared with the alcoholic driver. The evidence that the alcoholic driver is a killer is incontrovertible. Let us get him off the highways."

Need For A Simplifier

For some years now governments have been discussing the role of the ombudsman and one province, Alberta, is ready to proceed with the establishment of the office. Experience with the Canadian Pension Plan, already in need of amendment, fears about the Carter proposals and the continual increase in bureaucracy due to the proliferation of laws and regulations would seem to indicate that Canadians are getting the cart before the horse.

There would be less need for ombudsmen if government delegated someone to prevent legislators from passing laws that no one can understand and that are impossible to administer with equity.

Less Government, Not More

Remember that old expression "There ought to be law"? If it isn't heard so often now, that's because there probably is one.

Columnist Mary Humphries, writing in Alaska Highway News about proposed regional districts, thinks Canadians need less government, not more. "Maybe we hardy yappers northerners should start a new trend," she says, "and see how much we can do without the government."

They will have to work hard at it if Prime Minister Pearson is right. He says the trend is toward more government, not less, and that anyone who thinks otherwise will be disappointed.

Domination Day Holiday

A lot of controversy has been going on about the celebration of Dominion Day, July the first which falls on a Saturday this year.

The federal government has legislated that Monday can be observed as a holiday for the civil service and many businesses, including banks and others who normally are closed on Saturday have also decided to give their employees the day off on Monday, not to rob them of a holiday, which is obviously fair.

When the matter came up for discussion at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday, Town officials were asked to look into the matter to see if they could legally declare Monday, July 31 a holiday. They were informed that this was possible, under the privilege that they have to call one civic holiday per year.

Because this would rule out picking the first week of August which is usually reserved for the civic holiday, the majority of Chamber of Commerce members voted to have the holiday for Monday, regardless. However, this would have to be done through mutual consent.

Bearing in mind that we are celebrating Canada's centennial and that so many people have been active in promoting it, it might just be an idea to stay closed all day Monday as a special reward to all those hard workers. A good seventy per cent of the businesses will be closed anyway and it is just good business to be consistent, and give the public good notice of what is going on.

Celebrate Dominion Day In St. Paul

Competition for Dominion Day celebrations through the country is very keen. As we look at the bill boards we notice all kinds of baseball tournaments, picnics, special events and parades advertised for this district alone.

With this kind of competition, how successful each one is going to be depends on local supporters more than ever for patronage.

The St. Paul Jaycees who have promoted a two day ball tournament on July 1 and 2, are naturally going ahead with their plans this year, with the notable exception that they have organized many additional attractions.

A big centennial parade kicks off the celebrations at 11:00 a.m. in the morning (please note the time as it was omitted on some of the posters).

Besides the baseball tournament offering $2000 in prize money, entertainment for all the family is billed so, we recommend that on Dominion Day you celebrate the Confederation of Canada in the Centennial town of St. Paul which has a good program to offer. At least the local people should make an effort to give the Jaycees their support in recognition of the fact that they have been sponsoring this event for 25 years.

Why U.S. Gave Ok

Security of long-term supplies of energy for a fast-growing American market played an important part in the U.S. Federal Power Commission's approval of the Great Lakes Gas Transmission Co. project.

This considerably improves the outlook for other pending natural gas and crude oil export proposals to the U.S. FPC approval for the $212 million, 1,000-mile gas pipeline across the north-central U.S. is seen opening up potentially large new U.S. markets for Canadian gas and spurring new exploration drives in Western Canada.

The first of a two-stage pipeline project will connect gas storage fields of Assiniboia, Mich. with three storage fields in south-western Ontario. This will provide needed interim supplies of U.S. gas in the fast-growing Eastern Canada market for gas shortages next winter. The second phase will open up direct delivery of Western Canadian gas to Eastern Canada, including gas delivery through a spur line to South St. Marie, Ont. Associated with this phase will be a major expansion of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. facilities in Western Canada to transport the additional volumes of gas to the new Great Lakes system.

New Booklet Tells 'Living Story' Of Canadian Confederation

When the first draft of the booklet was submitted to the Dominion of Canada, it was met with a warm reception. The booklet, titled "The Living Story of Canadian Confederation," is a 16-page booklet that tells the story of the confederation of Canada from 1871 to 1949. It is a booklet that is both informative and entertaining, and it is a must-read for anyone who is interested in the history of Canada. The booklet is written in a clear and concise style, and it is easy to read. And Your Parking
The parking problem in St. Paul is a real problem. It is a problem that has been around for a long time, and it is a problem that is getting worse. The city of St. Paul has tried many different solutions, but none of them have worked. The city needs to find a way to increase the number of parking spaces in the city, and it needs to find a way to make the existing parking spaces more efficient. In any event, we offer Hon. Ray Reiersen our congratulations and we are looking forward to his co-operation in the field of education. There is no doubt that there are many areas in the constituency which will need his help, especially in St. Paul where the plans for building a new vocational school are in progress.

Sample replies: "Stop the in-store music and let shoppers concentrate on prices," "Too many mistakes are made at checkouts and rarely in favor of the customer," "We don't need beans in sizes from 7½ oz. to 105 oz. cans," "Let's go back to the old cracker barrel days—more bulk items and less expensive packaging," "Put all candy at a high level where the kids don't grab it," "Women can't afford it and they can't watch their children every minute!"

Goodridge Opens Community Hall

The Goodridge community hall, located at the corner of 1st and 2nd streets, was officially opened last night. The hall was dedicated to the memory of Mr. N. Karyn, a prominent citizen of the community. The hall will be used for various community activities and events.

The hall was opened by Mr. N. Karyn, who gave a short address to the guests. He expressed his hope that the hall would be a valuable asset to the community and that it would be used to the benefit of all.

The hall is a modern building with a large hall and several smaller rooms. It is well equipped with furniture and fixtures, and it is ready to receive guests at any time.

The hall was opened at a reception held at the hall. There were many guests in attendance, and the evening was a success. The hall is now open to the public and is ready to receive guests at any time.

MODERN BEN HURS IN CHARIOT RACE

Days of the Roman chariot race to mind as the crowd watched feature races at the Gymkhana in St. Paul Sunday. Here Mike Doshak came his first to come in first in one of the half mile heats. In the rear, Joe Robinson.

Don't wear your sunglasses at night driving near the Canadian border. You may not see them, but they are out there, waiting to catch you off guard and cause traffic jams.

Never look directly at the sun or even within a few degrees of it. Glasses advise the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Unfaded rays can penetrate your dark glasses and blind you the retina of the eye.
